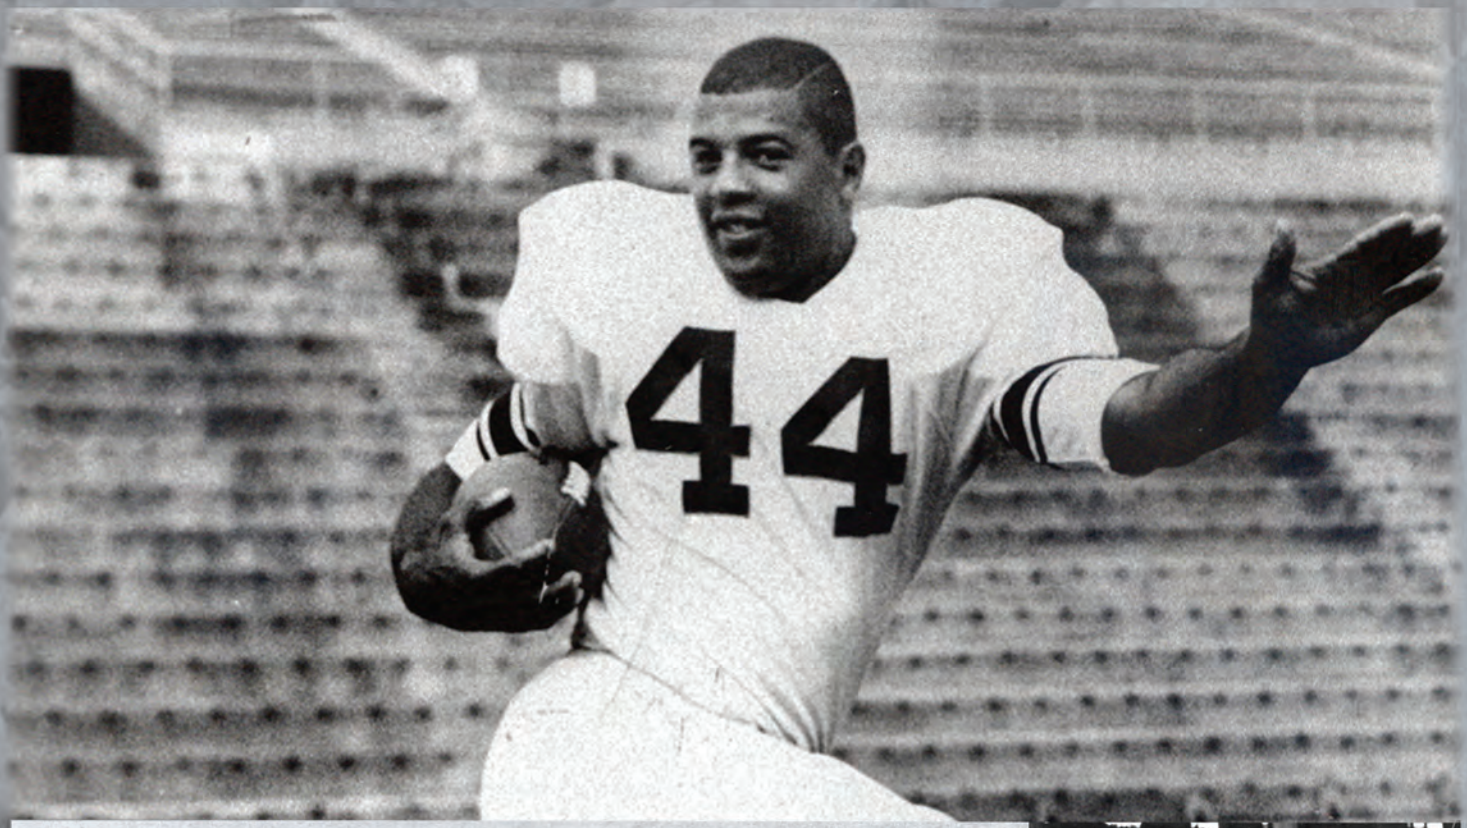
1959 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Unbeaten and untied, the 1959 Orange capped an 11-0 season with a 23-14 victory against Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse dominated its foes both offensively and defensively under the direction of consensus National Coach of the Year Ben Schwartzwalder. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 regular-season games. Running back Ernie Davis led an Orange offense that averaged 451 yards per game. Guard Roger Davis, who was selected seventh overall by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft, end Fred Mautino, halfback Gerhard Schwedes and tackle Bob Yates earned All-America honors.

1961 HEISMAN TROPHY WINNER:
ERNIE DAVIS



In 1961, the Civil Rights Act was three years from becoming a reality. It would be four years until the voting rights of all Americans were protected by federal law. But, an unassuming sports hero was about to play an important, yet unintentional, role in the burgeoning civil rights movement. On Dec. 6, 1961, Syracuse University running back Ernest R. Davis was awarded the Heisman Trophy. It was the first time an African-American was honored as college football's best player, even though they had participated in the game since the late 1800s.

As a sophomore, Davis rushed for a team-high 686 yards and scored 10 touchdowns to power Ben Schwartzwalder's 1959 Orange to a 10-0 regular-season record, the nation's No. 1 ranking, and a Cotton Bowl showdown with Texas. With the collective eyes of the college football world focused on Dallas, Davis captured MVP honors, scoring two touchdowns – one on an 87-yard halfback option pass from captain Gerhard Schwedes – and setting up a third to spark a 23-14 Orange triumph.

In 1960, Davis led the squad in rushing again with 877 yards and scored 10 more touchdowns to earn All-America accolades. Davis paced Syracuse on the ground for a third time in 1961, rushing for 823 yards and scoring 15 touchdowns. In the Liberty Bowl, he ran for 140 yards on 30 carries and scored Syracuse's first touchdown, as the Orange rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit to nip Miami (Fla.), 15-14.

A unanimous selection for his second first-team All-America honor, Davis was then rewarded with the 1961 Heisman Trophy. President John F. Kennedy sent the following telegram to Davis in 1963 after a celebration of Davis' achievements in Elmira, New York:

"Seldom has an athlete been more deserving of such a tribute. Your high standards of performance on the field and off the field reflect the finest qualities of competition, sportsmanship and citizenship. The nation has bestowed upon you its highest awards for your athletic achievements. It's a privilege for me to address you tonight as an outstanding American, and as a worthy example of our youth. I salute you."

Hoping to team the talented Davis with his Syracuse backfield predecessor and NFL rushing king Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell traded for Davis after Washington selected him with the first overall pick in the annual draft. But before the former Orange stars could suit up together, Davis contracted leukemia and died on May 18, 1963. He was 23 years old.

In the fall of 1979, Davis, who had taken the greatness of Syracuse's No. 44 from Jim Brown and passed it on to Floyd Little, was posthumously inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame. In 2008, "The Express," a motion picture about Davis' life, premiered in downtown Syracuse. Syracuse University has honored Davis in many ways, including the retirement of his No. 44 jersey, erecting a statue of him on the University Quad, building Ernie Davis Hall and celebrating the 50th anniversary of his historic Heisman victory with an event at the New York Historical Society Museum in 2011.

CONSECUTIVE SEASONS FROM 1975 TO 1999 WITH AT LEAST ONE ALL-AMERICAN

During Syracuse's 130-year football history, more than 100 Orange players have been named All-Americans. Bill Horr became the program's first in 1907 when the legendary Walter Camp selected Horr to his "Second Eleven." Running back Sean Tucker is the Orange's most recent honoree, earning All-America accolades by four of the five consensus teams and first team honors from the FWAA. The most recent unanimous All-American was Andre Szmyt in 2018, who would go on to win the Lou Groza Award as the nation's best kicker.

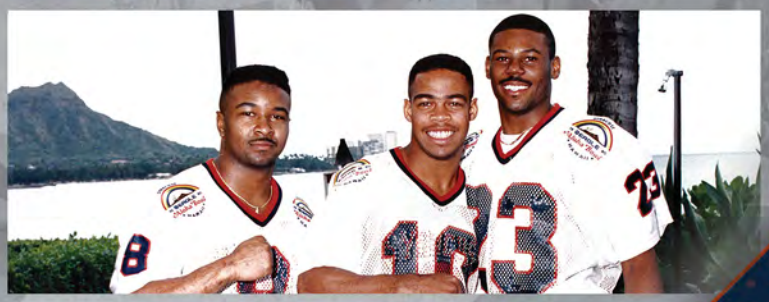
BOWL TRADITION

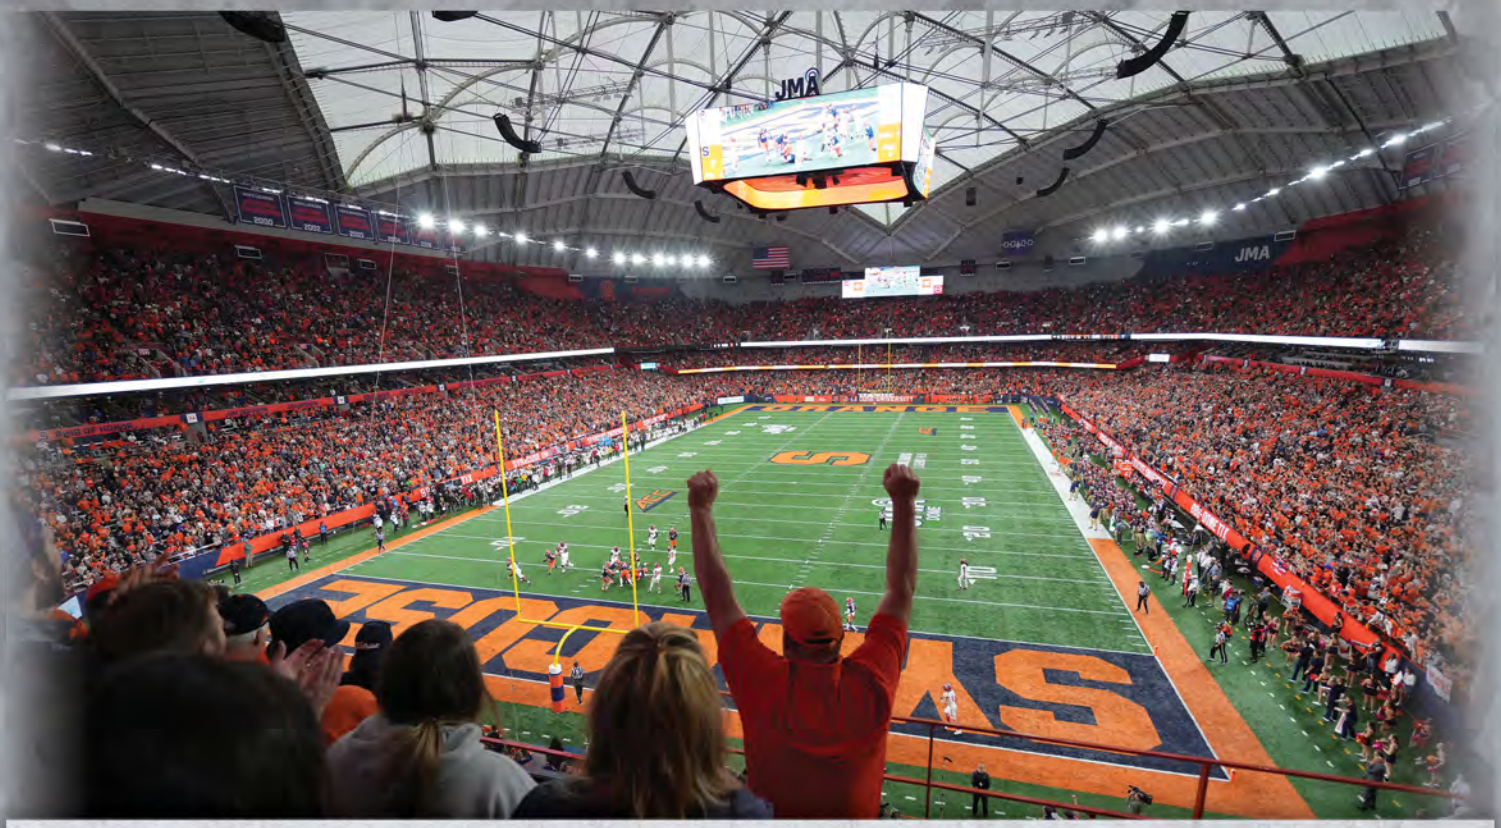
Syracuse is 16-11-1 in its 28 bowl appearances and has won 13 of its last 18 postseason games, including the 2018 Camping World Bowl. From 1989-96, the Orange won seven consecutive bowl games, the seventh-longest streak in the history of college football. Syracuse has played in 18 different bowl games. The program's .589 winning percentage ranks 10th all-time among schools with at least 20 bowl appearances.

NEW YEAR'S SIX

During its illustrious history, Syracuse has earned invitations to all six games that make up the College Football Playoff – the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Fiesta, Peach and Cotton Bowls.



THE LOUD HOUSE



The JMA Wireless Dome is one of the most unique venues in all of sports, hosting the Orange's football, basketball and lacrosse programs. In 2020, the University announced a $118 million investment in the facility to create a new stadium experience. The first phase of renovations completed in 2021, include a new fixed roof, center-hung scoreboard, improved lighting and sound. This fall, Syracuse will debut new chairback seating throughout the venue as part of the continued renovations. Syracuse-based JMA Wireless partnered with the University for naming rights of the building in 2022. JMA Wireless will also support the Dome's digital infrastructure transformation by establishing the most advanced connectivity offerings for fans and other users while at the facility.

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

The ongoing construction of the football operations center at the John A. Lally Athletic Complex and Ensley Athletic Center serve as symbols of Syracuse University's commitment to providing an exceptional student-athlete experience. Named in honor of three-sport letterwinner Cliff Ensley, the 87,000-square foot Ensley Athletic Center offers a full-sized, indoor, FieldTurf practice field identical to the JMA Wireless Dome. Set to be completed after the 2024 season, the new football operations center will be a state-of-the-art home for the Orange football program.

Student-Athlete Academic Development

The Stevenson Educational Center, located in the John A. Lally Athletic Complex, is home to the Syracuse Student-Athlete Academic Development staff. The center features a computer lab, tutor rooms, career development suite and meeting rooms for both day and evening study-table sessions. In the Spring Semester, the Orange football program posted a cumulative GPA of nearly 3.1 and was the highest in program history.

The educational center team is involved in additional activities designed to enhance academic performance. Orientation programs for incoming student-athletes are held at the beginning of the first semester to aid in the transition from high school to college. Career-planning programs assist those who are undecided on their major course of study. As student-athletes approach the end of their college careers, programs coordinated by the academic development staff help them enter the work force or explore opportunities for graduate school.

One of those programs is the "S Project," which is designed to provide student-athletes with proactive and continuing education. Through the program, student-athletes develop the skills necessary to excel in the classroom, maximize their athletic ability and prepare for post-collegiate success. The curriculum is centered on four areas – career readiness, financial education, healthy relationships, and wellness and personal development.

Staff members focus on the enhancement of academic performance through the development of study and communication skills, goal-setting, stress and time management, and individual tutoring and mentoring. Academic performance is monitored to ensure NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference and Syracuse University eligibility rules are met and that progress is being made toward graduation.

SERVING THE COMMUNITY

Giving back to the community is integral to the development of the overall student-athlete. Through the 'Cuse Cares program, Syracuse coaches and student-athletes log thousands of community service hours each year. The Orange football team has been a leader in that regard, earning multiple awards for service. In 2018, linebacker Kielan Whitner was named to the prestigious Allstate AFCA Good Works Team for his commitment to volunteerism. In 2019, Syracuse Uplifting Athletes chapter president Sam Heckel was selected to the inaugural Rare Disease Champion Team for his significant and lasting impact on the rare disease community. Football also won the 2023-24 'Cuse Cares Award for community engagement, which included volunteer hours at the Salvation Army, Rescue Mission, CNY Diaper Bank, Police Athletic League, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Food Bank, Clear Path for Veterans, Syracuse City Schools and at neighborhood cleanups. The team logged over 2,000 hours of community service this past spring.

ACC TOP SIX FOR SERVICE

Presented annually to six student-athletes at each member institution, the ACC Top Six for Service Award recognizes those who demonstrate outstanding dedication to community service and outreach programs.

Since joining the conference in 2013-14, the Orange football team has had nine individuals combine for 12 ACC Top Six for Service honors, with former quarterback Zack Mahoney, former long snapper Aaron Bolinsky and former offensive lineman Sam Heckel earning the award twice in their careers. LeQuint Allen is the latest winner of the award.

SYRACUSE, NEW YORK THE SALT CITY

Located in the heart of New York state, the city of Syracuse and its nearby environs offer a blend of city life and scenic countryside escapes. Among its many attractions, the city hosts an opera company, museums, art houses and a professional theater. Historic Armory Square in downtown Syracuse is filled with restaurants, pubs, and boutique hotel and shopping opportunities, along with the hands-on Milton J. Rubenstein Museum of Science & Technology. To experience some of the unique sites the city has to offer, visitors can travel the Connective Corridor, a three-mile urban design project linking Syracuse University with the city's cultural attractions.

Beyond the city, the area features abundant county and regional parks. The Rosamond Gifford Zoo, Beaver Lake Nature Center, Onondaga Lake Park and Baltimore Woods Nature Preserve offer plenty of recreation and entertainment opportunities.

Syracuse is also home to Destiny USA – a 2.4 million square-foot destination shopping complex. Destiny USA underwent an 850,000 square-foot expansion in 2012 that combines full-priced and value retail with fine dining and entertainment venues. It's the sixth-largest shopping center in the United States and features nearly 250 tenants.

Residents and visitors enjoy the region's four seasons, which allow for various outdoor sports, including cross-country and downhill skiing, snowmobiling, biking, fishing, hiking and canoeing. In addition, more than 40 golf courses are located throughout the greater Syracuse area. For sports enthusiasts, the city is home to the Syracuse Mets, the Triple-A affiliate of the New York Mets, and the Syracuse Crunch AHL hockey team.

A yearly end-of-summer celebration with exhibitions, food and entertainment, the Great New York State Fair draws hundreds of thousands of visitors each year. The area also hosts many other festivals, including the Jamesville Balloon Fest, Taste of Syracuse, New York Blues Fest and the Syracuse Arts & Crafts Festival.

In recognition of the area's many assets, U.S. News & World Report ranked Syracuse No. 29 on its 2023 list of the "125 Best Places to Live in the United States."

Carrier

THE STORIED HISTORY OF CARRIER & THE DOME

On behalf of our alumni, students, faculty, staff and fans in Central New York and all over the world, Syracuse University would like to express our deep gratitude to Carrier for its many years of support. Without Carrier's historic gift to the University in 1979 — the first naming agreement for a major stadium in college sports, and one of the first in all of sports — completion of the Carrier Dome would not have been possible.

Carrier's generous support was instrumental in creating an iconic sports and event facility that became known around the country. As the site of many famous competitions, the Carrier Dome has brought unforgettable sporting experiences to the University and its fans and has broken NCAA attendance records 16 times. The Dome's versatility as a venue for football, basketball, lacrosse and other sports has propelled the University's athletics program to become one of the finest in all of college sports. The Carrier Dome has also served many other roles, including commencement venue, and allowed the University to give back to the surrounding community by hosting music concerts and other events that enrich the lives of all who live in Central New York.

Carrier's impact goes far beyond supporting the Dome. It has been equally generous to the University as a whole throughout the years, including significant scholarship, advertising and athletic event support, and has been a key University business and research partner, funding the world-class Willis H. Carrier Total Indoor Environmental Quality Lab.

The University will be forever grateful for this special relationship, which spans more than 40 years, and looks forward to many more years of collaboration with Carrier.

Carrier will be Forever Orange.

THEACC.COM

The Atlantic Coast Conference's official website – theACC.com – is the source for complete conference football information. The media section of the website (theACC.com/media) offers additional information for use by media members, including access to ACC PhotoShelter, the home for conference and school logos, headshots of players and coaches from select sports and images from ACC events and championships.

ACC MEDIA PORTAL

Highlights & Press Conferences: The ACC and XOS Digital have partnered to provide individual highlight packages from all ACC-controlled regular season football and men's basketball games to approved TV news affiliates for the 2020-21 seasons. Upon the conclusion of each game, highlights will be available for local TV news affiliates to download and use in televised news programming at no cost. Outlets may access the highlights, along with any weekly head coach press conferences, through the ACC Media Portal. This portal replaces the ACC Video Clip Service (AVCS). The use of ACC game highlights provided through the portal remain subject to those restrictions outlined in the ACC News Access Guidelines. Interested affiliates should email licensing@xosdigital.com to register for the ACC Media Portal and for additional information. Approved affiliates will receive a confirmation email along with credentials to access the portal.

ACC Digital License: Per the ACC News Access Guidelines, game footage (station shot or broadcast) may not be distributed through digital platforms without a license. The ACC and XOS Digital now offer a turnkey digital highlight license specifically designed for local TV affiliates. This license covers the use of ACC game footage across official station websites, apps, and social media platforms. Distribution of in-game highlights on any platform during the broadcast window is strictly prohibited, regardless of a digital license. Interested affiliates should email licensing@xosdigital.com to receive more information or to purchase a digital license.

ACC NETWORK

Owned and operated by ESPN in partnership with the Atlantic Coast Conference, ACC Network (ACCN) and its digital platform ACCNX is a 24/7 national network dedicated to ACC sports that launched on August 22, 2019. ACCN features regular-season and tournament games from across the conference's 27 sponsored sports, plus a complement of news, information shows and original programming. ESPN has been televising ACC content since 1979 and has exclusive rights to every conference-controlled game across all sports and championships.

Carriage agreements are in place with the following video providers: AT&T U-Verse, AT&T TV NOW, Cox, DIRECTV, DISH Network, Google Fiber, Hulu Live TV, Optimum, Sling TV, Spectrum TV, Suddenlink, TVision, Verizon Fios, YouTube TV, members of the NCTC, NRTC and Vivicast, among others. All ACCN games will also be available on the ESPN app to authenticated subscribers. Fans interested in learning more about ACCN can visit GetACCN.com.

COLLEGEPRESSBOX.COM

Collegepressbox.com is the official media website for college football. Users can access and download weekly game notes, quotes, statistics, media guides, headshots, logos and more for each conference and its member schools. Login information will be distributed to accredited media or you can apply for a password at collegepressbox.com/password.

SYRACUSE SPORTS NETWORK FROM LEARFIELD

All Orange football games can be heard live on the Syracuse Sports Network from Learfield IMG College (see below list of affiliates), Cuse.com and SiriusXM Satellite Radio. Network programming is produced and distributed by Learfield IMG College of Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

"Voice of the Orange" Matt Park, now in his 18th season, handles play-by-play duties. Former Syracuse and NFL offensive lineman Adam Terry joins Park on the broadcast as the color analyst.

MEDIA INFORMATION

GALAXY MEDIA

The flagship station for the Syracuse Sports Network from Learfield IMG College is Galaxy Media's TK99 (WTKW 99.5 FM) in downtown Syracuse.

Since 2007, Galaxy's stations (TK99, ESPN Radio 97.7 and WTLA 1200) have served as the play-by-play home for Orange football, men's and women's basketball, and men's lacrosse. Additionally, head coach Dino Babers makes regular appearances on Galaxy programs, including the popular "Gomez & Company" morning show.

WAER FM 88.3

Located on campus, WAER FM 88.3 is Syracuse University's student-run radio station. The station broadcasts all Orange football games – home and away – live.

FRAN BROWN

Head Coach • First Season • Career Record: 0-0

The nation's top recruiter, a member of the 2022 College Football National Championship coaching staff and a New Jersey native, is the new leader of Orange Football. Director of Athletics John Wildhack named Fran Brown the 31st head coach of Syracuse University Football in November 2023.

"I am incredibly proud to be leading Syracuse Football at a university with a rich and storied tradition of academic and athletic excellence," says Brown. "Syracuse Football has outstanding talent, great facilities and passionate alumni. The success of the players is my No. 1 priority—on and off the field. I want my guys to succeed in life, because they played football at Syracuse. My immediate area of focus is building relationships with my current players and putting together an elite staff, while also having fun on the recruiting trail. I'm ready to get to work and look forward to building something special for our fans."

Brown joined the University of Georgia in early 2022 where he was part of the coaching staff that led the undefeated Bulldogs to victory in the 2022 College Football National Championship. Under the leadership of the defensive coaching staff, the Georgia defense finished the season ranked among the nation's leaders in rushing defense, scoring defense, red zone defense and total defense. The defense also finished the season with two first team All-Americans and finalists for awards, including the Butkus Award, the Rotary Lombardi Award, the Bronko Nagurski Trophy and the Shaun Alexander Freshman of the Year Award.

According to 247Sports, Brown is the No. 1 recruiter in the nation for the 2024 recruiting class and has played a critical role in attracting top talent to Georgia. This designation follows his recruitment of two five-star prospects, both of whom are ranked No. 1 in their respective positions. Brown brings with him deep ties to New Jersey and the Northeast, which will allow him immediate recruiting success for the Orange.

"Fran is an outstanding coach, recruiter and person, and exactly who we need to take Syracuse Football to the next level," says Wildhack. "Fran has clearly articulated a vision for the future of our football program, and he is a powerhouse recruiter with deep ties to the geographies from where we need to draw consistently. Fran has had tremendous success recruiting to a variety of programs—in the South, Southwest and Northeast, and I have no doubt he will bring that track record here to Syracuse. I am looking forward to welcoming Fran and his family to the Orange community. The future is bright for our football program."

A former student-athlete, Brown played football at Western Carolina University, where he was named a team captain and earned First Team All-SoCon selection at cornerback for the Catamounts. He went on to play two seasons in the NFL with the Cincinnati Bengals. Chancellor Kent Syverud says Brown's experience as a college and professional football player combined with his coaching prowess positions him well to support Syracuse University's student-athletes' success both on and off the field.

"What impressed me most during my conversation with Fran is his deep commitment to our student-athletes," says Chancellor Syverud. "He knows how to win and how to recruit. But most importantly, he is passionate about mentoring and guiding student-athletes in all aspects of their lives. Fran is the kind of coach who is going to demand excellence from his student-athletes and coaching staff in everything they do—on the field, in the classroom and in our community."

Brown's extensive resume includes stops at Rutgers University (2020-21), Temple University (2011-16, 2019), Baylor University (2017-18) and Paul VI High School (2010). During his career, Brown has worked with some of the top coaches in the country, including Georgia's Kirby Smart and University of Nebraska's Matt Rhule. Both Kirby and Rhule offered high praise for Brown.

"Fran is excellent," says Smart. "No ego, he's trustworthy, smart and he's worked really hard during his two seasons here to earn an opportunity like this. He has built great relationships in our building, our players love him and we couldn't be more excited for him, Teara and their family."

"Fran Brown will be a tremendous leader for the Syracuse program," says Rhule. "His commitment to improving the lives of the players he coaches will only be matched by his passion for coaching on the field. Syracuse will recruit elite talent, retain and develop those players, and produce a team that everyone can be proud of."

Prior to joining the Georgia staff, Brown was defensive backs coach at Rutgers for two seasons under Head Coach Greg Schiano. In his first year with the program, his secondary helped create 19 turnovers in 2020, 10 more than the previous season and the most since 2012 for the Scarlet Knights. Schiano offered congratulations to Brown upon the news of his hiring.

"I am proud of Fran and thrilled for him to have this opportunity," says Schiano. "Syracuse University is getting both a dynamic coach and a great addition to their community. I'm elated for Fran and his whole family."

Before Rutgers, Brown was co-defensive coordinator and cornerbacks coach at Temple. While there, the defensive unit was nationally ranked in red zone defense, sacks, defensive touchdowns, tackles-for-loss and fumbles recovered. At Temple, Brown recruited or coached five players who went on to play in the NFL, including three draft picks: Harrison Hand (fifth round, Minnesota Vikings), Shaun Bradley (sixth round, Philadelphia Eagles) and Chapelle Russell (seventh round, Tampa Bay).

Brown has also recruited and worked with future NFL players, such as Sean Chandler, P.J. Walker, Hasson Reddick, Jullian Taylor, Sharif Finch, Jacob Martin and Raquell Armstead.

At Baylor, Brown served as the assistant head coach/defensive backs coach. While in Waco, he helped turn the program around from a 1-11 season in 2017 to a 7-6 mark the following year, which culminated in a Texas Bowl victory.

Brown grew up in Camden, New Jersey, and earned a bachelor's degree in criminal justice at Western Carolina University. Brown and his wife, Teara, have two sons, Fran Jr. and Brayden, and a daughter, Ivy Ann.

ELIJAH ROBINSON

AHC/Defensive Coordinator • First Season

One of the nation's most prolific recruiters and rising stars in coaching, Elijah Robinson has been tapped by Head Coach Fran Brown as the team's Assistant Head Coach and Defensive Coordinator.

"I'm really excited to join Coach Brown and return to the Northeast," Robinson said. "It's an honor to join a life-changing program that has such a rich history and tradition. I'm looking forward to joining the Syracuse community."

Robinson comes to 'Cuse from Texas A&M, where he most recently served as the team's interim head coach for the final two games of the 2023 season as well as the Texas Bowl. Prior to that, he served as the assistant head coach, co-defensive coordinator and defensive line coach for the past two seasons.

"I think we got the best defensive coordinator in the country," Brown said. "He's someone I grew up with and look up to. I've seen how good of a coach he is. He can recruit, he can coach, he's a great communicator and he's amazing with the Xs and Os. The kids are going to love him."

Robinson coached the Aggies' defensive line for four seasons before adding assistant head coach to his duties prior to the 2022 season. His defensive unit ranked 13th nationally in rushing defense last season. The Aggies also finished seventh in the FBS in sacks (3.2 per game) and 19th nationally in total defense, allowing just 316.2 yards per game. The 2023 squad also led the SEC in rushing defense and sacks and finished second in tackles for loss and third in the league in total defense.

In his six seasons in Aggieland, the A&M defense finished inside the top-20 nationally in rushing defense on three occasions (2018, 2020, 2023) and inside the top-five nationally twice (third in 2018 and second in 2020). The Aggies also finished inside the top-15 nationally in total defense in three of the past-four seasons.

Robinson has mentored numerous NFL players in his coaching tenure. Every starter on his 2021 defensive line unit signed NFL contracts, including DeMarvin Leal (Steelers) and Michael Clemons (Jets) being selected in the third and fourth round of the 2022 NFL Draft, respectively.

Prior to his arrival in College Station, Texas A&M hadn't had a defensive tackle drafted since 2008. Under Robinson's guidance, four players have been selected in the fourth round or earlier of the NFL Draft, and numerous others have signed free agent contracts.

Known as being a dynamic recruiter, Robinson was named 247Sports' No. 1 recruiter for the 2022 season, when he helped lead Texas A&M to sign the nation's No. 1 recruiting class according to 247Sports' composite rankings. The Aggies have finished inside the top-10 in each of the last five recruiting cycles by that metric.

In 2020, Robinson helped guide a defensive line that led the SEC and was ranked inside the top-10 in the nation in total defense, also boasting the nation's No. 2 ranked rushing defense. The team finished 9-1 in the COVID-shortened season against a regular-season schedule of only SEC opponents and was ranked fourth in the final AP Poll that season. Defensive tackle Bobby Brown III was taken in the fourth round of the ensuing NFL Draft by the Los Angeles Rams.

In his first season there, he helped the Aggies finish second in the SEC in rushing defense, allowing 95.2 yards per game, a 75.6 yard improvement from the prior season. Defensive tackles Justin Madubiuke and Dylan Mack finished in the top-15 nationally in sacks. Mack (Ravens) and defensive tackle Kingsley Keke (Packers) were both taken in the fourth round of the NFL Draft in 2019, while Madubuike was selected by the Ravens in the third round a year later. Madubuike currently is the NFL's leader among defensive tackles in sacks this season (10.0).

He arrived at Texas A&M in January of 2018, following stints at Baylor (2017), Temple (2014-16) and Penn State (2009-13).

Robinson was part of Matt Rhule's staff as a defensive line coach at both Temple and Baylor. During that span, he mentored seven players that earned all-conference accolades. He coached All-Big 12 lineman Ira Lewis at Baylor in 2017 and mentored six All-American Athletic Conference selections at Temple, including first-team honorees Hasson Reddick (2016), Matt Ioannidis (2015) and Nate Smith (2015). Reddick was selected with the 13th overall pick in the 2017 NFL Draft by the Arizona Cardinals and Ioannidis was selected in the fifth round by the Washington Commanders a year prior. Reddick was a Pro Bowl selection and Second Team All-Pro honoree in 2022 after leading the NFL in forced fumbles.

The 2016 Owls' rush defense ranked No. 2 in the AAC and 25th nationally, allowing just 130.4 yards per game, and posted a conference-best 40.0 sacks. In 2015, Temple recorded 32.0 sacks, including a season-high 10.0 in the Owls' season-opening win over Penn State. Robinson's 2014 defensive line unit racked up 27.0 sacks and 79.0 tackles for loss, as the Owls led the AAC in scoring defense (17.5 points/game) and passing defense (186.9 yards/game).

Prior to Temple, Robinson spent 10 seasons at Penn State as a student-athlete and staff member. A former defensive tackle, he had his playing career cut short after suffering an injury in 2006. He earned his bachelor's degree in 2008 and spent three seasons as a graduate assistant with the Nittany Lions – 2009 with academics and 2010-11 with the defensive staff – before earning his master's degree in 2012.

During the final two months of the 2011 season, Robinson served as defensive line coach, assisting co-defensive coordinator Larry Johnson. He worked with eventual NFL players Devon Still, Jared Odrick, Aaron Maybin, Jack Crawford, Eric Latimore and Jordan Hill.

His final two seasons at Penn State he served as director of community relations and NFL liaison under then-head coach Bill O'Brien. In that role he organized scouting visits, orchestrated Pro Day, developed community service initiatives and served as the football team's liaison with admissions, compliance, housing and academics.

The Camden, N.J. native earned all-state and All-South Jersey honors at Woodrow Wilson High School, leading the team to a 15-0 record and a state championship in 2002.

JEFF NIXON

Offensive Coordinator • First Season

Jeff Nixon, a 27-year coaching veteran at the collegiate and professional levels, has been tapped to be Syracuse's Offensive Coordinator and Running Backs Coach by head coach Fran Brown.

Nixon, who spent last season as the running backs coach for the New York Giants, boasts 14 seasons in the NFL across five franchises, with collegiate stops at Baylor and Temple, among others.

"I'm beyond blessed and ecstatic to be coaching at the prestigious Syracuse University," Nixon said. "I want to thank Coach Fran Brown and the rest of the Syracuse athletic administration for this once in a lifetime opportunity for my family and I. Can't wait to get started. Go Cuse!"

In his first season with the Giants, he helped Saquon Barkley to be fifth in the NFL in rushing yards per game, among players who have played in five-or-more games, despite the star back missing three games this year. Before joining New York, he spent the previous three seasons on the Carolina Panthers' staff in various roles, including serving as offensive coordinator in the final five games of the 2021 season.

"Jeff Nixon is very intelligent, we got a chance to work together at Baylor and some of our best years on offense were with him. He really knows how to score," Brown said. "He's an offensive mind, period, he knows how to coach every position. He's coached special teams, running backs and tight ends in the NFL and has coached nearly every position there is. He knows how to score from all areas. If you go and watch him, he's good in the red zone, he's good in open field and backed up coming out. He's a real competitive guy. I'm happy to call him a friend, but I'm also happy that he decided to come and work here."

In 2022, Nixon was the Panthers' assistant head coach. The team finished 10th in the NFL in rushing yardage (130.0 yards per game), despite the midseason trade of star running back Christian McCaffrey. D'Onta Foreman led the franchise with a team-high 914 yards.

He coached running backs the prior two seasons in Carolina. With McCaffrey limited to 10 total games due to injury over that span, he mentored rookie Chuba Hubbard to lead the Panthers in rushing in 2021 with 612 yards and five touchdowns. In 2020, he helped Mike Davis have a career-best season, topping 1,000 scrimmage yards for the first time and notch a team-high eight total touchdowns.

Nixon joined the Panthers after a three-year stint as Baylor's co-Offensive Coordinator and play caller. In 2019, the Bears finished with an 11-win season, an appearance in the Big XII Championship game and Allstate Sugar Bowl. While running the offense, the unit averaged 431.2 yards per game and ranked 17th nationally in scoring offense (35.2 points per game).

The prior season, Baylor finished 22nd in the FBS in total offense (459.1 yards per game). His first season in Waco saw Baylor finish in the top-25 in passing offense, averaging 280 yards per game. Quarterback Charlie Brewer earned Big XII Freshman Offensive Player of the Year under Nixon's guidance, starting a career that saw him finish second all-time at Baylor in career passing yards.

Baylor also hsd a pair of offensive players drafted in his tenure. Wide receiver Jalen Hurd was taken in the third round of the 2019 NFL Draft by San Francisco and fellow receiver Denzel Mims was selected in the second round a year later by the Jets. Wide receiver Tyquan Thorton (2022 – second round – Patriots) and Trestan Ebner (2022 – sixth round – Bears) also played the first half of their careers under Nixon before being drafted.

Before returning to college football in 2017, Nixon spent 11 consecutive years in the NFL. In 2016, he coached tight ends for the 49ers. From 2011-15, he coached the Dolphins' running backs, working with Reggie Bush, Lamar Miller and Jay Ajayi, among others. Bush's best NFL season came under Nixon in 2011, when he ran for 1,086 yards and six touchdowns. Three years later, he helped Miller run for 1,099 yards and eight touchdowns, while the Dolphins ranked second in the NFL in yards per carry (4.69).

His time in Miami came after a four-year stint coaching in Philadelphia, working with both the Eagles' offense and special teams units. He worked closely with All-Pro running backs Brian Westbrook and LeSean McCoy, as well as All-Pro fullback Leonard Weaver. On special teams, Nixon helped DeSean Jackson become one of the NFL's top return men. In three of his four seasons in Philly, the Eagles reached the playoffs, including an NFC Championship Game appearance in 2008.

Before his NFL tenure, Nixon had stops at Temple (2006), University of Tennessee at Chattanooga (2003-05), Shippensburg (1999-02) and Princeton (1998). He served as the running backs coach at each stop, adding tight ends and special teams in his stop at Chattanooga. While with the Mocs, he helped develop Eldra Buckley into an All-American before his five-year NFL career. He also mentored eventual All-Pro fullback John Kuhn at Shippensburg.

Nixon began his coaching career at Penn State in 1997 as a student assistant. A native of New Brighton, Pa. and State College, Pa., Nixon played running back for two seasons at West Virginia (1993-94), before transferring to Penn State, where he earned a spot on the Big Ten All-Academic Team. He earned a bachelor's degree from Penn State in 1998 in elementary education and a master's degree in education administration from Shippensburg in 2003. His son, Will, is a running back for the Orange.

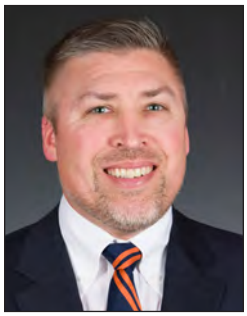
JAMES VOLLONO



Special Teams Coordinator • Second Season

James Vollono joins Syracuse's football staff as the Special Teams Coordinator, bringing 20 years of coaching experience to the Orange staff.

Vollono most recently served as Troy's special teams analyst, but also has stops at Georgia, Mississippi State, North Carolina, Colorado, Navy, FIU, Towson and the CFL's Edmonton Elks.

"I'm grateful to Coach Fran Brown for an opportunity to join such a prestigious and storied program as Syracuse," Vollono said. "I look forward to championing his vision for the program of being Detailed, Accountable, Relentless and Tough. My family and I are excited to get involved and join the Syracuse community. I'd like to thank Dr. Hawkins and Jon Sumrall for an opportunity to be part of the Troy University football program. Being a part of back-to-back Sun Belt Championships as well as the time we spent in the Troy community will always be special to my family!"

The Trojans had strong special teams play under Vollono's guidance the past three seasons, while he helped build the program into a consistent winner. Troy went 23-5 over his two seasons there, won back-to-back Sun Belt Championships and had appearances in the Cure Bowl (2022) and Birmingham Bowl (2023). The Trojans finished the 2022 season ranked in a major poll for the first time in school history, checking in at No. 19 (AP), No. 20 (USA Today/Coaches) and No. 22 (College Football Playoff) in each outlet's final ranking.

"Coach Vollono has character, charisma and a passion for winning" said head coach Fran Brown. "He loves special teams and talked about it being the bridge between offense and defense. There will be no one better than him at pulling us together completely. He's really good at recruiting and building relationships. Beyond being great on special teams, he's a great person all around and at everything it takes to be a coach. Building a young man academically, athletically and being able to inspire and equip."

This past season, kicker Scott Taylor Renfore made 19-of-24 field goal attempts, the second-most makes in program history. Punter Robert Cole turned in the ninth-best season in school history, averaging 42.27 yards per punt.

In his first season at Troy, kicker Brooks Buce made 17-of-19 field goal attempts, setting the school's single-season field goal percentage record. Buce was a perfect 4-of-4 on kicks longer than 40 yards. Punter Mike Rivers averaged 42.1 yards per punt that same year, which is the 10th-best mark in school history.

His coverage and return units were also strong in his time in Troy. In 2023, his punt unit ranked 36th nationally in punt return defense, surrendering just 5.64 yards per return. The year prior, Troy allowed just one punt return of more than 20 yards (23), and the kickoff team tied for eighth nationally in allowing just one kickoff return of more than 30 yards (36).

Prior to his stint at Troy, Vollono served as the running backs coach for Edmonton in 2021, where James Wilder ranked third in the league in rushing (770 yards) and the Elks had two of the CFL's top-14 rushers.

He spent the 2018-2020 seasons on Florida International's staff as the Special Teams Coordinator/Tight Ends Coach. While with the Panthers, return man Maurice Alexander was a First Team All-Conference USA selection and punter Stone Wilson earned second-team honors. FIU had multiple special teams players earn all-conference honors in two of his three seasons there.

Vollono coached at Georgia in 2016 as a special teams analyst. Prior to that, he spent three years at Mississippi State. From 2013-14, he was the quality control assistant for special teams, before adding offense to his duties, in addition to his special teams work, in 2015. During his time in Starkville, the Bulldogs were ranked No. 1 for the first time in program history. The Mississippi State kickoff unit led the SEC in kickoff return defense in both 2014 and 2015 and Vollono's teams set the program record with four blocked kicks in 2014 – a mark they tied in 2015.

Vollono coached back-to-back Lou Groza Award winners in his career. He worked with Rodrigo Blankenship, who claimed the honor with the Bulldogs in 2019 and Jose Borregales won it in 2020 with Miami after his tenure at FIU.

He spent the 2012 season at Colorado as a special teams assistant, after spending three seasons at Towson. He was the Tigers' Special Teams Coordinator and also worked with running backs and tight ends. While in Baltimore, his 2011 squad won the Colonial Athletic Association Championship and reached the second round of the FCS playoffs. He served as the lead recruiter for running back Terrance West, who'd go on from Towson to spend five seasons in the NFL. West won the Jerry Rice Award, which honors the FCS freshman of the year and would later set the FCS single-season rushing record.

Vollono spent the 2007-08 seasons at North Carolina as the Tar Heels' special teams quality control coach and offensive assistant, where he worked with kicker Connor Barth before his 10-year NFL career.

He began his career at the United States Naval Academy (2003) and later held positions at Annapolis High School (Offensive Coordinator, 2005) and Georgetown (Special Teams Assistant/Defensive Quality Control, 2006). He graduated from The Catholic University of America in 2003.

MICHAEL JOHNSON

co-Offensive Coordinator/Tight Ends • Third Season

Michael Johnson – who spent the last two seasons at Syracuse coaching the wide receivers – is in his first season as Orange's co-Offensive Coordinator and Tight Ends Coach.

"I'm grateful to Coach Fran Brown for the opportunity to continue my time with Syracuse University's football program," Johnson said. "I am looking forward to being part of what can be accomplished under his leadership and philosophy. I take pride in having the responsibility of coaching and mentoring this group of young men. Go Orange!"

The Orange's passing game has seen significant improvement since he arrived in 2022 and player development has been a hallmark of his tenure. This year, even with a pivot to a run-focused offense due to injuries at the quarterback position, 10 different players caught at least one touchdown pass. Five members of the Orange caught at least 20 passes as well. In 2022, seven different players caught 15-or-more passes, up from five the year prior.

"Mike Johnson has been a coordinator before and worked with several teams in the NFL. Having his mind here is great," Fran Brown said. "He has the opportunity to coach one of the best players on our entire team in Oronde Gadsden II and we have a freshman coming in who I think is going to be another really, really good football player, in Jamie Tremble. I'm excited he decided to stay and I want people to understand and know that it's important that he's here on our staff. We have like three coordinators on offense, so that helps a lot."

In his first season with the Orange, the team's passing offense saw much needed improvement from the year prior. The team's passing efficiency rating upgraded from 108th in the FBS in 2021 prior to his arrival, to 45th nationally and fourth in the ACC in one season. The Orange also improved to eighth in the ACC in total offense (from 10th), seventh in passing offense (from 14th), second in red zone offense (from 13th) and seventh in scoring offense (from 10th). Tight end Oronde Gadsden II led all tight ends nationally in receiving yards (969), a new program record at the position, and set a new Syracuse best with 61 receptions.

Prior to Syracuse, Johnson most recently coached at Florida Atlantic as the team's Co-Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks coach in 2021. His career also includes stops with Mississippi State, Oregon, The King's Academy, UCLA, San Francisco 49ers, Baltimore Ravens, Atlanta Falcons, San Diego Chargers and Oregon State.

At FAU, Johnson helped N'Kosi Perry rank in the top-55 nationally of seven major passing categories, including: passing efficiency (55), passing TDs (41), passing yards (51), passing yards per game (49), passing yards per completion (34), points responsible for (51) and points responsible for per game (48).

He coached wideouts with Mississippi State in 2019 in an offense that averaged over 400 yards of total offense per game.

Prior to that, he spent three seasons at Oregon. A strong recruiter, Johnson helped bring in the No. 5 ranked recruiting class nationally in 2018. On the field, Johnson's wide receiver unit featured the best individual performance at the position in program history in 2018. Junior Dillon Mitchell finished with 75 catches for a single-season record 1,184 yards receiving, which also led the Pac-12, and 10 touchdowns. He was named second-team All-Pac-12 by both conference coaches and The Associated Press.

Before his time at Oregon, Johnson was the head coach at The King's Academy from 2014-16 in Sunnyvale, California, where he coached his highly recruited son, Michael Johnson Jr.

Johnson spent the 2011 season as the Offensive Coordinator/Wide Receivers Coach at UCLA. In his one year with the Bruins, he helped them to the Pac-12 title game and served as the interim head coach in the Fight Hunger Bowl. That season, wide receiver Nelson Rosario finished fifth in the conference in receiving yards (1,161).

His time in Westwood came on the heels of a two-year stint with the San Francisco 49ers, serving as the offensive coordinator in 2010 after working with quarterbacks in 2009. He played a key role in the development of Shaun Hill and Alex Smith. In '09, the duo combined for 23 passing touchdowns, which was the most for the team since the 2003 season.

In a two-year stint with the Baltimore Ravens (2006-07), Johnson was the wide receivers coach, helping veteran wideout Derek Mason post his sixth-career 1,000-yard season in 2007. He also coached Mark Clayton to record 939 yards receiving and five touchdowns in 2006, emerging as the Ravens' top playmaker.

Johnson spent the four previous seasons with the Atlanta Falcons, coaching quarterbacks from 2003-05 and wide receivers in 2002. He mentored Michael Vick to three-straight Pro Bowls in his time in the QB room. Vick passed for 2,412 yards and 15 touchdowns in 2005, while ranking second on the team with 597 rushing yards. Vick became the first NFL quarterback to throw for more than 250 yards and run for more than 100 yards in a single game at Denver during the 2004 season.

Johnson's first NFL coaching job came with the San Diego Chargers in 2000. He was the quarterbacks coach for a unit that had Drew Brees, Jim Harbaugh, Ryan Leaf and Doug Flutie over his two years with the group. Flutie threw for 3,476 passing yards in 2001, while Johnson mentored the then rookie Brees at the start of his record-breaking career.

He began his coaching career at Oregon State, where he coached both wide receivers and quarterbacks in his tenure. In 1999, he helped guide the Beavers program to their first bowl game since 1960.

Johnson was a record-setting quarterback at Akron (1988-89) and also played at Arizona State and Mesa Community College. He went on to play four seasons in the World Football League and Canadian Football League.

Johnson and his wife Louan have one daughter, Taylor, who was a track and field student-athlete at Nebraska and one son, Michael Jr., who is a member of the Orange.

ROBERT WRIGHT

co-Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers • First Season

Robert Wright, who spent last season as the defensive coordinator at Buffalo, joins Fran Brown's staff as the Orange's co-Defensive Coordinator and Linebackers Coach.

"I'm excited for the opportunity to reunite with Elijah Robinson and work with Fran Brown, who I had heard nothing but great things about prior to meeting him," Wright said. "Syracuse is a national brand that has great tradition and I'm thrilled to be here and to have the opportunity to work with and impact the young men of this program."

A rising star in the coaching world, Wright was named an American Football Coaches Association's 35-under-35 winner for 2024.

In his one season with the Bulls, his defensive unit ranked in the top-25 nationally of numerous defensive categories, including passing defense (18th), defensive touchdowns (25th) and third down defense (23rd). The Bulls were also top-10 nationally in total defense during conference play. Additionally, Devin Grant (interceptions) and Max Michel (forced fumbles) led the MAC in their respective takeaways category. Grant was named a First Team All-MAC selection this season.

"Robert Wright is up-and-coming and really, really intelligent," Brown said. "He's the co-DC here because he's done a good job at Buffalo and Texas A&M. Everyone speaks really highly of him. He understands the back end, he understands the front end and he can visualize things and see problems before they even happen. I'm excited to work with him and so are our players and staff."

Wright spent the 2022 campaign at Duke as the senior defensive analyst, working with linebackers. He helped the Blue Devils to their best season in nearly a decade, finishing 9-4 with a victory over UCF in the Military Bowl. The 2022 Blue Devils squad finished fifth in the ACC in scoring defense (22.1 points per game) and ranked ninth nationally in takeaways (26). They also finished 22nd in sacks.

Prior to his stint in Durham, he spent the 2021 campaign at Iowa State as a special teams quality control coach, where he helped mentor kicker Andrew Mevis, who was a semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award. The Cyclones finished 7-6 and made an appearance in the Cheez-It Bowl.

He previously spent two seasons at Texas A&M as a graduate assistant, where he worked with linebackers. The Aggies posted an overall record of 17-6 in his tenure there, including consecutive bowl victories over No. 25 Oklahoma State (2019 Texas Bowl) and No. 13 North Carolina (2020 Orange Bowl). Texas A&M finished ninth nationally and led the SEC in total defense in 2020, surrendering just 317.3 yards per game. Their rushing defense was second nationally (92.0).

Seven defensive players off A&M's defenses have been drafted that were on the teams Wright worked with, including Justin Madubuike (Ravens), Bobby Brown III (Rams), Buddy Johnson (Steelers), DeMarvin Leal (Steelers), Michael Clemons (Jets), Antonio Johnson (Jaguars) and Jaylon Jones (Colts).

Before his time in College Station, he spent three seasons at Illinois in various roles. He joined the Illini as a defensive graduate assistant (2016-17) before being elevated to a defensive quality control analyst in 2018. While in Champaign, Wright worked primarily with the linebackers and nickelbacks.

Wright got his coaching start as a special teams quality control coach at his alma mater, the University of Miami. He spent the 2015 season helping coach punter Justin Vogel, who was a Ray Guy Award semifinalist and recorded 67 punts for 2,846 yards (42.5 avg.) that year. He also mentored Michael Badgley from a walk-on placekicker to an NFL career, and is the leading scorer in Miami history (403 points). The Hurricanes finished the season with an 8-5 mark, including an appearance in the Sun Bowl.

Before his coaching stint with the Hurricanes, Wright was a member of the football program at Miami for the 2011 season. He later went on to earn a bachelor's degree in economics from the University in 2015. He also obtained his Master's degree in sport administration from Illinois in 2017.

NUNZIO CAMPANILE

Offensive Associate HC/Quarterbacks • Second Season

Nunzio Campanile is in his first season as Syracuse's Associate Head Coach for Offense and Quarterbacks Coach on Fran Brown's inaugural staff.

"I'm extremely excited to be reunited with Coach Fran," Campanile said. "Coach Fran is an elite leader of men, an excellent coach and a tremendous family man. The foundation of D.A.R.T. will permeate through everything we do. Syracuse has a remarkable history and we can't wait to add to the championship tradition."

Campanile spent last season coaching tight ends and served as the Interim Head Coach for the final two games of the 2023 campaign, where he led the Orange to victory over Wake Forest to secure bowl eligibility for the second year in a row.

"Coach Nunz is extremely intelligent and he sees the full picture," Brown said. "Nunz is someone who I think will be a head coach real soon. We're happy to have him and I'm happy that he's back at the position he's comfortable with. He's developed so many pros at quarterback already if you go back to his Don Bosco and Bergen Catholic days. Now, he's able to go back to the position that he loves the most. I think we're going to have some fun with him as our quarterbacks coach."

Last season, Campanile mentored offensive stars Oronde Gadsden II and Dan Villari, among other strong performers in the tight end room. After Gadsden suffered a season-ending injury in week two, Villari became a key offensive weapon for the Orange, earning ACC Player of the Week honors after posting nearly 170 yards of total offense in the win over Pittsburgh. Villari was just the second Orange player in nearly 40 years to post rushing, receiving and passing touchdowns in the same season.

Before coming to Syracuse, Campanile spent five seasons at Rutgers, serving in numerous roles, including interim stints as head coach and offensive coordinator.

A Paramus Catholic graduate with strong ties across New Jersey, Campanile was an accomplished high school coach before joining the Scarlet Knights, with stints at national powerhouses Bergen Catholic and Don Bosco Prep.

Campanile joined Rutgers for the 2018 season as the running backs coach before pivoting to tight ends at the start of the 2019 campaign. He'd finish the year as the interim head coach and was the play caller for the final eight games of that season.

He returned to his post as tight ends coach at the start of 2020, where he remained through the 2022 season until he added interim offensive coordinator and quarterbacks to his list of duties.

While at Rutgers, he coached Johnny Langan, a converted quarterback, who racked up over 1,300 all-purpose yards in his career on the Banks, despite not moving to the position full time until the 2021 season. His 31 receptions were the second-highest mark on the team that season.

Campanile arrived at Rutgers after spending eight seasons as the head coach of Bergen Catholic, where he led the team to the 2017 state championship. One of the nation's elite high school programs, Campanile compiled a 60-28 record (.681), while leading the Crusaders.

He mentored seven all-state quarterbacks at Bergen Catholic, which averaged over 35 points per game and saw numerous prospects sign scholarship offers across the country during his tenure. Five of his former high school quarterback pupils went on to play in the NFL, including Mike Teel, Matt Simms, Jarrett Guarantano, Tanner McEvoy and Gary Nova (camp invite).

Before Bergen Catholic, he was the offensive coordinator at Don Bosco Prep from 2000-09, another one of the top football programs in the nation. The Ironmen won six state championships in his 10 seasons there, claiming the national title in 2009. In his time running the offense, Don Bosco recorded a 112-6 overall record.

He also previously served as the school's athletic director and wrestling coach, winning the 2010 Non-Public A state championship on the mat. He additionally worked as a history and physical education teacher.

Campanile comes from a football family, having played quarterback and safety for his father, Mike, at Paramus Catholic, before going on to play collegiately at Amherst College in 1995 and 1996, before transferring to Montclair State, where he graduated in 1999. His brothers, Vito (Bergen Catholic head coach), Nick (DePaul head coach) and Anthony (Miami Dolphins linebackers), also followed in their father's footsteps as football coaches.

Campanile and his wife, Heather, have two sons, Michael and James.

ROSS DOUGLAS

Passing Game Coordinator/Wide Receivers • First Season

Ross Douglas, a rising star in coaching who most recently served as a wide receivers coach with the New England Patriots, joined Fran Brown's staff as the Passing Game Coordinator and Wide Receivers Coach.

"I'm excited for this opportunity. I believe wholeheartedly in what Coach Fran stands for as a man," Douglas said. "I believe he'll take Syracuse to new heights and I want to help him do that. I'm forever thankful to Mr. Kraft, Coach Belichick and the Patriots organization for a great three years, where I grew tremendously, not only as a football coach, but as a man."

Douglas spent three seasons in New England in various roles after a brief stint at Richmond and three years on Rutgers' staff, where he first worked with Fran Brown.

"Ross is one of the young bright minds in football," Brown said. "He'll be a great head coach one day. I'm happy we got him, of the people we looked at, he was the best fit. He has it all. He understands and knows football. He's worked with arguably the best coach in football and Coach Belichick said nothing but great things about him. To be able to get someone to our staff from Bill Belichick's staff alone is something I'm excited about."

Douglas joined the Patriots prior to the 2021 season, working as a defensive assistant. In 2022, he was promoted to wide receivers coach, becoming the youngest position coach in the NFL at the time. Under his guidance in 2022, wide receiver Jakobi Meyers set new career highs in receiving yards (804) and receiving touchdowns (6), tripling his previous season high.

Prior to the 2022 season, Douglas served as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the West team in the East-West Shrine Bowl, helping his team to a 12-3 victory. In his first season in New England, the Patriots reached the postseason after earning a wild card spot.

Douglas last coached collegiately at Richmond in the spring of 2021 before moving on to the NFL.

He spent the 2018-20 seasons as a graduate assistant at Rutgers, coaching on the defensive side of the ball, primarily with the secondary. The Scarlet Knights led the Big Ten in takeaways during his final season (2020), and also led the league in tackles for loss.

He helped five Rutgers defensive backs to All-Big Ten honors in his tenure, including Tre Avery, Saquan Hampton (twice), Christian Izien, Brandon White and Avery Young.

Douglas started his collegiate career at Michigan (2013-15), where he appeared in 18 games, before transferring to Rutgers, where he was a two-time letterwinner. He started every game of the 2017 season as a senior, totaling 38 tackles and four pass breakups. He received an invite to the Pittsburgh Steelers' Rookie Mini-Camp in 2018.

A native of Avon, Ohio, he graduated from Michigan with a bachelor's degree in 2016 and earned his master's degree from Rutgers in 2018.

Douglas and his wife, Kaylyn, welcomed their son, RJ (Ross Jr.), in 2023.

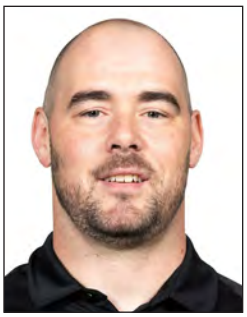
JOE SCHAEFER



Defensive Backs • First Season

Joe Schaefer joined Syracuse head coach Fran Brown's staff as the defensive backs coach. He comes to the Orange after a two-year stint at Texas A&M.

"The opportunity to come here and work with Coach Fran is incredible," Schaefer said. "His ties to the area make this an exciting time. The relationship with Coach Robinson that I developed over the last two years, knowing the type of man he is, and how close he is with Coach Fran made this exciting for me. I'm thankful to all the coaches I've been around that allowed for me to have an opportunity like this."

Schaefer started his tenure in College Station ahead of the 2022 season, and spent this past year coaching outside linebackers. Texas A&M ranked sixth in the SEC and finished the regular season 21st nationally in passing yards allowed, giving up 188.3 per game over the 12-game slate in 2023. Overall, the Aggies finished third in the conference and 19th nationally in total defense (316.2 ypg.).

The A&M defense was consistently in the backfield this season as well. The Aggies led the SEC and finished seventh nationally in sacks this season (3.23 per game) and were fifth nationally in tackles for loss (7.6 per game).

"Joe Schaefer is really intelligent and can see things from both sides of the football," Brown said. "He also understands how to make the backend and frontend match up. Not a lot of coaches can do that. He has unique ability when it comes to teaching and having people be able to gravitate towards him and understand what he's thinking and why he's thinking it. He's able to make the complicated really simple. He's a smart guy who has been a coordinator before and a high school head coach. I truly enjoy working with him."

Prior to his time at Texas A&M, Schaefer served as the defensive coordinator at Youngstown State in 2020-21. He also mentored the Penguins' safeties. Youngstown State finished No. 25 nationally in total defense and No. 11 in the nation in passing yards allowed in 2020.

Schaefer spent the 2018-19 campaigns at John Carroll University as the defensive coordinator. In his first season, the Blue Streaks' 5.19 sacks per game led Division III. In addition, John Carroll ranked 10th nationally in rushing defense. The next year, his team finished No. 8 in total defense and No. 4 in scoring defense.

The Parma, Ohio native was the director of scouting at Iowa State for two season (2016-17). The Cyclones' 2017 recuring class was the top-ranked class in school history.

Schaefer also served as a defensive quality control coach at Maryland (2016) and the head coach at his alma mater, Cleveland's Benedictine High School, where he won a state championship in 2014.

After earning first team Division III All-Ohio honors as a linebacker, Schaefer played at Bowling Green, where he was a three-year letterman and a two-year starter for the Falcons. He recorded 44 tackles and four sacks in his final two seasons, helping Bowling Green to back-to-back GMAC Bowl appearances.

Schaefer earned his bachelor's degree from Bowling Green in 2009.

He and his wife, Maura, have three children, a six-year-old daughter Mairin, a four-year-old son Joseph, and a newborn daughter Maela.

DALE WILLIAMS

Offensive Line • First Season

Dale Williams, a veteran offensive line coach with more than 25 years of coaching experience has joined the Syracuse football staff as its offensive line coach.

"I'd like to thank Coach Brown for naming me offensive line coach," Williams said. "I'm excited to coach at a University with such a strong tradition. I've played in the Dome as both a player and coach as a member of the visiting team, and I'm looking forward to a much better atmosphere as a member of the Syracuse football program."

Williams joins the Orange from Louisville, where he most recently served as the Cardinals' Senior Quality Control Coach, in a season that saw the program make its first trip to the ACC title game in program history.

Prior to that, he spent six seasons at Purdue as the team's offensive line coach, where he helped lead the Boilermakers win the 2022 Big Ten West title and two bowl victories, defeating Tennessee in the 2021 Music City Bowl and Arizona in the 2017 Foster Farms Bowl.

"Coach Williams is really, really intelligent and understands the screen game a lot differently than a lot of other people we interviewed," Brown said. "He has a good grasp on what they're doing at the NFL level when it comes to screens. He loves running power and counter. He loves mauling people. Just everything about what it is to be an o-line guy. He's able to relate to the kids and they love being around him. This is a tough offensive line guy, I like him a lot and am glad he's on our staff."

While in West Lafayette, Williams helped Purdue post some of its best offensive seasons in program history. The offensive line's protection helped the Boilermaker quarterbacks set single-season passing records for yards (4,620), completions (407), completion percentage (.708) and passing first downs (221) in 2021. The team's 355.4 yards per game through the air that season was fifth in the nation and second in the Big Ten that season. Gus Hartwig, Greg Long and Tyler Witt were selected to the All-Big Ten team.

His 2020 unit paved the way for the Boilermakers to average 390.5 yards of total offense and lead the Big Ten in passing yards (309.0 yards per game). Hartwig, Long, Grant Hermanns and Spencer Holstage were all named honorable mention Big Ten from his unit.

Williams' line helped Purdue average 393.2 yards of total offense in 2019, 443.9 yards per game in 2018 and 403.1 yards per game in his first season with the program in 2017. Matt McCann (2018 and 2019), Kirk Barron (2017 and 2018) and David Steinmetz (2017) earned all-league honors over that span.

Prior to his stint at Purdue, Williams was the offensive line coach at Western Kentucky in 2016. The Hilltoppers' high-powered offense scored 45.5 points per game, racked up 523.1 yards of total offense and 336.8 yards per game passing in his one season there. The line surrendered just 22 sacks on 471 passing attempts, and offensive tackle Forrest Lamp was named a Third-Team All-American and was a First-Team All-CUSA selection under Williams' tutelage. Lamp was selected in the second round of the 2017 NFL Draft by the Los Angeles Chargers. The 2016 Hilltoppers squad finished the season with a victory over Memphis in the Boca Raton Bowl.

Previously, Williams has stops at Florida Atlantic, Findlay, Gardner-Webb, North Greenville College and West Virginia. He also spent four seasons coaching at Lake Worth and Olympic Heights high schools between college stops.

Williams was at FAU from 2005-11, where he helped transform the Owls into a postseason regular. In 2007, Florida Atlantic were co-Sun Belt Champions – sending them to the program's first-ever bowl game – where they won the New Orleans Bowl. A year later, the team won five of their final six contests and went on to win the 2008 Motor City Bowl. In each season, the Owls finished in the top-15 nationally in fewest sacks allowed, protecting QB Rusty Smith to win Sun Belt Player of the Year honors in 2007. Three linemen – John Rizzo, Jarrid Smith and David Matlock – earned All-Sun Belt accolades over those seasons.

His unit also paved the way for the first 1,000-yard back in program history in 2008, as Charles Pierre ran for 1,009 yards. A year later, running back Alfred Morris shattered the program record, rushing for 1,392 yards behind Williams' line. He also neared the 1,000-yard mark in 2010, finishing with 928 yards.

Williams spent five seasons at Findlay from 2000-04, starting as the offensive line coach (2000-02), before adding offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator to his duties for his final two seasons there. His 2002 squad finished ranked 25th nationally with a 9-2 mark. The offensive line allowed just 15 sacks in the 11 game schedule, while also paving the way for Robert Campbell to run for 1,564 yards. Two years later, the line blocked for Michael Sampson to set a then-school record with 1,659 rushing yards for the Oilers.

Prior to Findlay, Williams spent three seasons, from 1997 to 1999, coaching the offensive line at Gardner-Webb following two seasons at North Greenville College. Williams got his start in the coaching profession during a three-year stint as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, West Virginia.

A three-year letterman and two-year starter for the Mountaineers, he was named the team's best lineman during its run to the 1994 Sugar Bowl. He earned his bachelor's degree from West Virginia in 1994, and his master's degree from the school in 1996.

NICK WILLIAMS

Edge • First Season

Nick Williams, a rising defensive coaching star, with prior stops at Colorado, Texas A&M and Georgia has joined the Syracuse football staff to coach the edge.

"It was a dream of mine to work with Elijah Robinson, and Fran Brown was someone that people compared me to and I had heard nothing but great things about before I had the chance to meet him," Williams said. "I'm extremely passionate and joining those two who have the same passion as me was the reason for me coming here. I can't wait to work with them and learn from them. I would have followed them anywhere in the country if they gave me the opportunity."

Spending the last season coaching Colorado's defensive line unit, Williams was a member of Coach Prime's inaugural staff. He helped land a top-30 recruiting class within just two weeks after being hired prior to the first signing period. Williams spent the previous two seasons at Texas A&M, working as a defensive analyst. While with the Aggies, he helped Texas A&M land the nation's number one recruiting class in 2022.

"I think Nick is someone that is very elite when it comes to teaching pass rush," Brown said. "If you go back to his tape and watch him play, he's a tough football player. Everyone down in Georgia loves him and talks about him. I also think he's elite when it comes to recruiting, has great energy and is passionate about what he does."

In his first year working with the A&M defense, the unit finished the season ranked 14th nationally in total defense, a mark that ranks third in the SEC. Every defensive line starter off that 2021 Aggies' squad went on to sign NFL contracts, including DeMarvin Leal (Steelers) and Michael Clemons (Jets) being selected in the third and fourth round of the 2022 NFL Draft, respectively.

Prior to that, he was on staff at Georgia as a student assistant in 2017 and then as a graduate assistant in 2019-20, working with the Bulldogs' defense. In addition to helping Georgia reach a New Year's Six Bowl in each of his three seasons on staff, Georgia also landed the nation's No. 1 recruiting class in both 2018 and 2020, and No. 2 class in 2019, according to the 247Sports composite rankings.

The Bulldogs went 31-7 in his tenure, including a 21-4 mark in the SEC and won back-to-back SEC East Championships.

Georgia led the nation in rushing defense in both of his seasons as a graduate assistant, allowing under 75 yards per game each year. The 2019 squad also led the nation in scoring defense (12.6 points per game) and was third nationally in total defense (275.5 yards per game). The 2020 squad ranked second in the SEC in both categories as well.

Williams worked with some of the Bulldogs' standout NFL talent on defense, including first round defensive line selections Travon Walker (No. 1 pick – 2022), Jalen Carter (No. 9 pick – 2023), Jordan Davis (No. 13 pick – 2022) and Devonte Wyatt (No. 28 pick – 2022) in their Georgia careers.

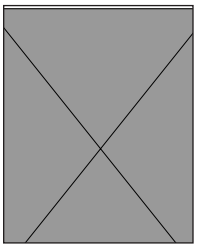
Williams played at Georgia from 2008-10, seeing action in 32 career games at both safety and linebacker. He transferred to North Alabama and after two redshirt seasons, had a solid senior campaign in 2013 with 62 tackles and two interceptions helping the team to a 10-3 record. He was selected to play in the NFLPA Game after the conclusion of his collegiate career.

He played two seasons in the Canadian Football League for the Toronto Argonauts where his tenure was cut short with a knee injury. He then played one season in the Arena League for the Tampa Bay Storm.

He attended Bainbridge High School in Bainbridge, Ga., graduating in 2008. He was a quarterback and linebacker and threw for 2,428 yards and 23 touchdowns in his career.

Williams is married to Warda Ali, a Rochester, N.Y. native, and the couple has two children – a five-year-old daughter, Nilah Rose, and a two-year-old son Noah.

STAFF



RYAN KELLY

Senior Associate AD/Football Operations

Ryan Kelly, an experienced athletics administrator who most recently served as the Director of Athletics at Long Island University, joined Fran Brown's Staff as the Senior Associate Athletic Director for Football Operations in March, 2024.

Kelly became the AD after two years in the Sharks' administration. He came to LIU by way of the American Athletic Conference, where he spent four football seasons as the league's Director of Football Operations. He also worked in football operations at both Baylor and Temple, where he crossed paths with Brown.

Kelly oversees all aspects of the Orange's football operations, including managing the program's budget, capital projects, team travel and calendar. He also serves as the program's liaison to entities both on and off campus.

While at Long Island, Kelly ran an athletic department that sponsored 38 varsity sports programs. He was responsible for 154 staff members and over 900 student-athletes. Prior to becoming the Athletic Director, he was the department's chief of staff and sport supervisor for football, the men's and women's hockey programs, baseball and men's and women's golf from 2022-23. He additionally oversaw men's lacrosse in his first season at LIU after joining the department as the Assistant Athletic Director for Sports Administration in 2021.

In these roles, he worked closely with the University's advancement team on numerous fundraising initiatives that led to facility and program upgrades, managed all capital projects, including a new weight room, athletic training room, meeting rooms and locker rooms, while being responsible for all budgets, practice and game schedules, recruiting, scholarships and personnel for the sports he oversaw.

The Sharks earned numerous conference accolades in his tenure, including the department being awarded the 2022 NEC Commissioners Cup, and conference championships in men's golf (2023), women's tennis (2023), men's volleyball (2023), women's hockey (2023), and baseball (2022).

While at the American Athletic Conference, Kelly spearheaded the operations as the conference experienced unprecedented success. In 2021, Cincinnati became the league's first College Football Playoff participant, 27 teams reached bowl eligibility in his four years, and the conference saw four-or-more teams ranked in the AP Top-25 in each of his first three seasons.

Rademacher joined Syracuse prior to the 2018 season. He previously had stops with the Atlanta Falcons and Arizona Cardinals. A 2016 graduate of Central Michigan, Rademacher was a student manager for the Chippewas football program while earning a bachelor's degree in sport management.

AHMAD RAGLAND

Director of Creative Design

Ahmad Ragland joined the Syracuse football program as its Creative Director in the summer of 2022.

In his role, Ragland helps create the team's visual identity on social media, for recruiting purposes and internal use. He also creates personalized recruiting graphics for top recruits to aid the coaching and recruiting staff in bringing top talent to Syracuse. Additionally, he oversees other graphic design projects to aid the football program.

A south Atlanta, Georgia native, Ragland joined Syracuse from Florida A&M University, where he earned his degree in graphic design and communication. While a student at Florida A&M, Ragland created various forms of visual content for the FAMU Athletics Program, including football, basketball, and baseball, among others. He also produced marketing content and promotional art for team promoters who were marketing a specific sporting event and worked with motion graphics in use for commercials, digital advertising, stadium screens, banners, and signs around campus.

NICK RASZEJA

Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Nick Raszeja joined the Syracuse football program in January of 2024, serving as an assistant strength and conditioning coach.

He comes to 'Cuse after a three-year stint at Charlotte where he was the Assistant Football Sports Performance coach from 2021-23.

Prior to his stint with the 49ers, Raszeja served as an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach at Tennessee State in 2020. In addition, he spent four years working at his alma mater, LaGrange College, in various roles, culminating in becoming the Director of Strength and Conditioning from August of 2018 until September of 2020. Raszeja previously served as a graduate assistant for two years there, while obtaining a Master's degree in strength and conditioning. He also spent five months interning at South Carolina during that time.

Raszeja earned his bachelor's degree in kinesiology and exercise science from LaGrange in 2016.

DEVIN REDD

Analyst (Offense)

Devin Redd joined the Syracuse football program in December 2023 as an Offensive Analyst.

He comes to 'Cuse having most recently served as the wide receivers coach at Delaware State in 2022 and 2023. In addition to his coaching duties, he served as the Hornets' Community Liaison Director as well as the Brand Ambassador and Assistant Fundraising Director for DSU Football.

Redd also had stints at Toledo, Rutgers, Seton Hill, Our Lady of Mount Carmel, St. Frances Academy and Calvert Hall. In addition, Redd also has head coaching experience for the St. Louis Stampede of the Gridiron Football League.

During his career, Redd has coached several NFL players, including third-round draft pick and NFL leading rusher Kareem Hunt and two-time Super Bowl winner Isiah Pacheco.

A graduate of Cardinal Gibbons High School in Baltimore, Redd continued his playing career at East Los Angeles Community College where he earned All-America honors. After East Los Angeles, Redd completed his playing career at Southwest Baptist University

JEREMY RUSKIN

Analyst (Defense)

Jeremy Ruskin joined the Syracuse football staff as a Defensive Analyst in January 2024.

Ruskin most recently serving as a defensive graduate assistant at Colorado, his alma mater. He began working with the Buffaloes in a full-time capacity in June, helping the team increase its win total by three over the prior season.

He also worked with the program as an undergraduate student, serving as the program's head manager, where he worked with the offensive staff, and eventually a student assistant coach that worked with defense and special teams in his senior year.

Ruskin graduated from Colorado in 2023 with a Master's degree in management and leadership.

AJ SCHAUFLER

Associate AD/Compliance

AJ Schaufler joined Syracuse in May of 2022 as the Associate Athletics Director for Compliance.

Schaufler is responsible for the day-to-day compliance operations of the football program, in addition to the other teams he works with, to ensure adherence to NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference and University rules and regulations.

Before joining the Orange, Schaufler spent nearly five years at Monmouth University, serving as both an Associate and Assistant Athletics Director in that time. He also has stops at Stony Brook, Fresno State, Columbia and Coppin State Universities in his athletics career.

A 2010 graduate of Mount St. Mary's University with a bachelor's degree in Sports Management, Schaufler also played lacrosse for the Mountaineers. He then went on to earn his Juris Doctor in 2013 from the University of Baltimore School of Law.

JIM SCHLENSKER

Head Equipment Manager for Football

Jim Schlensker joined the Syracuse equipment staff in 1994 and was promoted to head equipment manager for football in January 2011.

His primary responsibilities include gameday preparation of equipment and locker room facilities for both home and away contests, as well as office duties. Schlensker is responsible for football equipment purchasing and reconditioning, maintenance and inventory control.

He is one-of-two people that undertake Syracuse's football equipment and apparel responsibilities on a daily basis for a group well over 150 people between players, coaches and staff. He also oversees Syracuse's football managers.

He has staffed 11 bowl games for the Orange, including the 2022 Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl.

Schlensker came to Syracuse from Northwestern. The Fort Wayne, Indiana native is a 1990 graduate of St. Joseph's College. He is certified by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA).

CHAD SMITH

Director of Football Performance

Chad Smith joined the Syracuse football program in December 2023 to serve as the Director of Football Performance.

He comes to the Orange most recently working at Georgia Tech as a strength and conditioning coach for the past two seasons, and is entering his 19th season of collegiate coaching in 2024.

Smith has spent the entirety of his career training athletes at the Division I level, with stops at USC, South Alabama, FIU, Mississippi State, Memphis, South Florida and Chattanooga in addition to his most recent stint with the Yellow Jackets.

His two seasons in Atlanta culminated with Georgia Tech earning its first bowl appearance since 2018, a victory over UCF in the Gasparilla Bowl.

He spent the 2021 campaign with USC, and served as the Director of Football Strength and Conditioning at South Alabama in 2020.

Before that, he was at Florida International for seven years, overseeing 14 men's and women's sports as the Director of Strength and Conditioning. The Panthers' football team played in a bowl game each of his final three seasons there, including the 2018 season where the program posted its best record ever (9-4).

He joined FIU after a three-year stint with Mississippi State (2009-11), where he worked with football and the tennis programs. The Bulldogs' football team returned to national prominence in his time there, returning to the AP Poll for the first time in nine years, including a top-15 national ranking to close 2010 after a victory in the Gator Bowl.

Smith was a graduate assistant at Memphis from 2006-08 where he worked with the football program as well as the baseball and softball teams. He also had intern stops at his alma mater, Chatanooga (2005), and South Florida (2006).

He was a three-year letterman at fullback on the Mocs' football team (2002-04), while he earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science. He also holds a Master's degree in human movement sciences from Memphis in 2009.

Smith holds certifications from the National Strength and Conditioning Association, United States Weightlifting Federation and American Red Cross.

STAFF

NITRON STORK

Analyst (Defense)

Nitron Stork joined the Syracuse football staff in January 2024, where he serves as a Defensive Analyst.

Stork comes to 'Cuse after spending last season at Allen University as the Defensive Backs Coach, helping lead the program to a 7-3 mark. Opposing quarterbacks combined to throw for just 232.2 yards per game against his unit.

Previously, Stork spent three seasons at Florida Memorial University from 2020-22. He developed a secondary unit that set the school single-season interceptions record (15) in 2021.

Stork had extensive high school coaching success at Miami powerhouse Booker T. Washington. He began his tenure in 2009 as a Defensive Backs coach, before being named the Defensive Coordinator in 2014, a position he held until leaving for Florida Memorial after the 2019 season.

Stork helped the Tornadoes win five state championships (2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2019) and were named the USA Today Super 25 National Champions in 2013. He helped develop numerous players from the school who went on to play in the NFL, including Chad Thomas (Browns), Matthew Thomas (Steelers / Ravens), Lynden Trail (Commanders), Maurice Alexander (Lions), TyQuan Thorton (Patriots) and Guy Thomas (Colts).

DENNIS THOMAS

Director of High School Relations

Dennis Thomas joined the Syracuse football staff as the Director of High School Relations in the spring of 2023. A veteran high school coach, Thomas spent the 2022 season as an offensive assistant at Rutgers – his alma mater.

Thomas is tasked with creating and fostering relationships with high school coaches and athletes, working with the Orange's recruiting department to identify and attract top prospects to Syracuse.

Before his stint On The Banks, Thomas spent seven successful seasons as the head coach at Millville (New Jersey) High School, posting a 52-24 record. His teams made the playoffs in all-six years that the state playoffs were held in that time, with five semifinal appearances. The Thunderbolts went 12-1 in 2021, winning the South Jersey Group IV and South/Central Regional Championships. That 2021 team was led by current Orange standout LeQuint Allen, who was named the Gatorade Player of the Year in New Jersey that season.

Thomas previously served as head coach for two seasons at his high school alma mater, Salem High School. Coming off a winless season before taking over, the Rams went 5-6 with an appearance in the South Jersey Group I semifinal in 2013 before improving to 8-4 and to the championship game the next season. Thomas also took part in coaching the USA Football U19 team as part of the IFAF World Championship in Kuwait in 2014.

As a player, Thomas cracked the top-10 in Rutgers history with 3,245 career all-purpose yards, including 1,557 rushing yards, a category which he led the team in both 2000 and 2001. He signed with the Kansas City Chiefs following a successful collegiate career.

Thomas and his wife, Shonta, have three children: Dennis, Xavier and Marshall.

STACK WILLIAMS

Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Stack Williams is in his first season with the Orange as an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach.

Williams founded Supreme Athlete in Hartford, Connecticut, which offered training and mentoring programs to athletes. The program trained and mentored boys and girls of all ages and ability levels in academics, life and human potential.

Williams played football at SUNY-Morrisville before transferring to UConn. He earned his degree in sociology from Connecticut in 2008. Williams earned Master's degrees in business administration from University of Phoenix and sport administration from Delaware State.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

JIM BROWN

Jim Brown is the player all running backs are measured against. He is the only person enshrined in the College Football, Pro Football and National Lacrosse Halls of Fame. He was a unanimous collegiate All-American in both sports. The 6-2, 232-pound Brown was the top draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1957. He is considered by many to be the finest runner to ever play the game. He led the NFL in rushing in eight of his nine professional seasons. When Brown retired in July of 1966, he held the NFL records for single-season (1,863 in 1963) and career (12,312) rushing yardage, rushing touchdowns (106), total touchdowns (126) and career all-purpose yardage (15,549). He was voted to the Pro Bowl every season he played and was named the greatest professional football player of all-time by Sporting News in 2002.

JIM RINGO

One of the greatest linemen in pro football history, Jim Ringo was the center for Vince Lombardi's great Green Bay Packers teams, and later in his career, the Philadelphia Eagles. Ringo earned All-NFL honors six times. He played in 10 Pro Bowls and three NFL championship games. Ringo was a member of Ben Schwartzwalder's 7-2 1952 squad that earned a trip to the Orange Bowl, Syracuse's first-ever bowl appearance.

LARRY CSONKA

Still considered the prototype for NFL fullbacks, Larry Csonka led the Miami Dolphins to an undefeated season and the Super Bowl title in 1972. He was the MVP of Super Bowl VIII after carrying 33 times for 145 yards and two touchdowns, as Miami defeated Minnesota, 24-7. A five-time Pro Bowl selection, Csonka put together three straight 1,000-yard campaigns from 1971-73, leading the Dolphins to the Super Bowl each season.

AL DAVIS

A 1950 Syracuse Unversity graduate, Al Davis was the owner of the Oakland Raiders from 1972 to 2011. He served as commissioner of the AFL in 1966 and was the driving force behind the AFL-NFL merger. From 1967-85, Davis' Raiders won an AFL championship, three Super Bowl titles and 13 division championships.

Syracuse's legacy in the Pro Football Hall of Fame ranks among the finest of any college football program. The Orange boast nine inductees, tied for the seventh-most of any school. Jim Brown (1971) was the Orange's first representative enshrined in Canton. Marvin Harrison (2016) is Syracuse's most recent honoree. Three players (Art Monk, Floyd Little and Harrison) earned induction during the nine-year period from 2008 to 2016.

JOHN MACKEY

John Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He played 10 seasons in the NFL from 1963-72, including nine with the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler, Mackey caught 331 career passes for 5,236 yards and scored 38 touchdowns. He was a member of the NFL's 1960s All-Decade Team and was named to the NFL 100 All-Time Team in 2019. Mackey served as president of the NFL Players Association toward the end of his career and helped fight to establish free agency.

ART MONK

Considered one of football's most reliable receivers, Art Monk played for the Washington Redskins, New York Jets and Philadelphia Eagles during his 16-year NFL career that spanned from 1980 to 1995. Monk was selected by the Redskins in the 1980 NFL Draft and helped the franchise win three Super Bowl titles. He was voted to the Pro Bowl after the 1984, 1985 and 1986 seasons. Monk was the first receiver in league history to amass 900 career receptions. He made at least one reception in 183 straight games and finished his career with 940 catches.

FLOYD LITTLE

A multi-dimensional player, Floyd Little combined his rushing talents with great hands and elusiveness in the return game to become a superstar for the Denver Broncos. A five-time Pro Bowler, Little recorded more than 12,000 all-purpose yards during his career, which lasted from 1967 to 1975. He led the AFC in rushing in 1970. The next year, Little posted the first 1,000-yard season in Denver history, gaining a league-best 1,133 yards. At the time of his retirement, Little ranked seventh on the NFL's career rushing list (6,323 yards). He was a charter member of the Broncos Ring of Fame in 1984.

MARVIN HARRISON

An All-American for the Orange in 1995, Marvin Harrison played 13 seasons for the Indianapolis Colts and earned eight Pro Bowl invitations. As Peyton Manning's favorite target, Harrison posted eight 1,000-yard receiving seasons, including 1,366 yards in 2006 to help the Colts win their first Super Bowl in 36 years. In 2002, Harrison set the NFL single-season record (since broken) with 143 catches. At the time of his retirement, Harrison ranked second in league history with 1,102 receptions for 14,580 yards and 128 touchdowns.

 - Territorial Draft*

NOTE

The USFL held a yearly "territorial" draft where teams could select players from protected schools in their geographic area without them being subjected to the league's annual collegiate draft.

In 1993, Glen Young was selected in the third round of the Canadian Football League Draft by the Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

XFL DRAFT PICKS

Name (Pos.)	Phase/Rd (Pick)	Team

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL CHRONOLOGY

Coached by Bobby Winston, the 1890 Syracuse football team was the first Orange squad to play a full season. The team posted a 7-4 record.

1889
On Nov. 23, Syracuse traveled to Rochester for its first intercollegiate football game. Wearing pink and blue uniforms, Syracuse lost 36-0 to finish the season 0-1.

1890
Orange was adopted as the school color and Syracuse's athletic teams are henceforth known as "Orange" or "Orangemen." Bobby Winston became the program's first head coach. The Orange defeated the Syracuse Athletic Association 14-0 in the season opener for their first football victory en route to a 7-4 record.

1891
The Orange defeated Rochester (18-16) and the Syracuse Athletic Association (22-10) in its final two games to finish with a 4-7 record in William Galbraith's only year as head coach.

1892
The only season in Syracuse football history with no wins when at least two games were played. The Orange went 0-8-1 under coach Jordan C. Wells.

1893
Without an official coach, the Orange finished the season with a 4-9-1 record. The team posted triumphs against Syracuse High School, Hamilton College, Onondaga Academy and Cazenovia.

1894
In his only season as Syracuse's head coach, George H. Bond led the Orange to a 6-5 record.

1895
The Orange secured their first real home field, as Syracuse went from playing in parks throughout the city to playing at The Oval, which was a space located behind the Hall of Languages. The Orange recorded their first victory against rival Colgate, winning by the score of 4-0.

1896
The Orange played their first opponent from outside New York state, losing to Williams College, 24-6.

1897
The Colgate "Hoodoo" was born when a newspaper reporter sympathetic to the Raiders' cause tackled an Orange player who was on his way to scoring the winning touchdown. The game ended in a 6-6 tie.

1898
The Orange posted an 8-2-1 record, outscoring their opponents 192-69 under the direction of head coach Frank E. Wade.

1899
Syracuse finished 4-4 in the final season of head coach Frank E. Wade's three-year tenure.

1900
Edwin Sweetland, a Cornell grad, was hired as head football coach and to start the crew program. He guided the Orange to a 7-2-1 record, including six shutouts. Sweetland later coached against Syracuse as the head coach at Colgate.

1901
Success builds for the program, as the Orange closed the season with a 7-1 record. The lone loss came against Lafayette, 5-0.

1902
A 23-0 shutout of rival Colgate was an important win for the Orange, as they cruised to a 6-2-1 record. Other big victories were against the Onondaga Indians, Amherst and Williams.

1903
The program gained momentum as its budget increased to $5,500. Jason B. Parish and Ancil D. Brown served as co-coaches and led the Orange to a 5-4 record.

1904
In Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' first season as head coach, Syracuse finished 6-3. In a victory against Manhattan, the Orange put 144 points on the board, a team record that still stands.

1905
The Orange recorded six shutouts and finished the season with an overall record of 8-3 in Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' second and final year at the helm.

1906
Head coach Frank J. (Buck) O'Neill was hired. He piloted the Orange to a 6-3 record in the team's last season at The Oval. On Nov. 17, the Orange handed Lafayette its only loss of the year, 12-4.

1907
The Orange opened Archbold Stadium, a 20,000-seat venue, with a 28-0 victory against Hobart. The stadium provided the Orange with one of the finest facilities of its time. Once called the "Eighth Wonder of the World," Archbold was just the third concrete stadium built in the United States. A 22-0 victory against Hamilton on Oct. 26 was the program's 100th win. Marquis (Bill) Horr became the program's first All-American when he was named to Walter Camp's "Second Eleven."

1908
Howard Jones was hired as head coach. The Orange posted a 6-3-1 record and along the way played their first Western Conference (now Big Ten) opponent, beating Michigan, 28-4. Bill Horr became the first Syracuse player to be named a first-team All-American when he was recognized by Walter Camp for the second year in a row.

1909
Syracuse went 4-5-1 during the first of two seasons for head coach T.A.D. Jones, who took over the program after his brother, Howard, left after one year to become the head coach at Yale.

1910
In its 22nd season of intercollegiate football, Syracuse finished 5-4-1. T.A.D. Jones ended his two-year tenure as head coach with a 9-9-2 overall mark. Caspar Whitney included center Harry Hartman and tackle Rudy Probst on his "Honor List" in Outing Magazine. Taking into account the opinions of both Eastern and Western coaches, Whitney's selections were considered a more accurate representation of the nation's top players than many of the Eastern-centric All-America teams compiled at the time.

1911
First-year head coach C. DeForest Cummings led the Orange to a 5-3-2 season, including a 6-0 shutout of Ohio State and a 12-11 upset of Pop Warner's Carlisle team that featured the legendary Jim Thorpe. End A. Harry Kallett earned Walter Camp Third Team All-America honors. Rudy Probst and quarterback Preston Fogg were named to Caspar Whitney's "Honor List."

1912
After opening the season with a 12-0 victory against in-state rival Hobart, Syracuse was 4-5 in C. DeForest Cummings' last season as head coach. Rudy Probst received All-America honors for the third time, earning "Second Eleven" kudos from Walter Camp.

1913
Buck O'Neill, who led the program to a winning season in 1907, returned to coach the Orange. He guided Syracuse to six wins, its highest total since 1908.

1914
The Orange opened the year 2-0 and posted a 5-3-2 overall record. Among the victories was an 81-0 rout of Hamilton, the third-largest margin of victory in program history. Guard Harold White and halfbacks Tam Rose and Marcus Wilkinson garnered "Honor List" plaudits from Caspar Whitney.

1915
Syracuse's first powerhouse team finished 9-1-2, recording seven shutouts and outscoring the opposition, 331-16. Syracuse was invited to the Rose Bowl to play Washington, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the program's travel budget. Guards Christopher Schlacter and Harold White were both named All-Americans.

1916
In his only season, head coach William Hollenback led Syracuse to a 5-4 record. The Orange scored more than 50 points in three of their five victories, including a 73-0 shutout of Ohio University.

1917
All-America tackle Alfred Cobb captained the Orange gridders to an 8-1-1 record. Syracuse closed the year with six consecutive wins.

1918
The Orange were 5-1 with four shutouts in Buck O'Neill's penultimate season as head coach. Joe Alexander earned the first of his three consecutive first-team All-America awards. Louis Usher, Joe Schwarzer and Willard Ackley also received All-America recognition.

1919
All-American Joe Alexander and the Orange finished 8-3 in the last year of Buck O'Neill's tenure as head coach. O'Neill was the Syracuse sideline leader for a total of eight seasons (1906-07, 1913-15, 1917-19).

1920
Team captain Joe Alexander received All-America honors for the third straight year. He and first-year head coach John Meehan guided the Orange to a 6-2-1 record. Alexander was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954. Tackle Bertrand Gulick turned in the first of his two All-America campaigns.

1921
Syracuse recorded its ninth straight winning season. Led by All-American Bertrand Gulick, the Orange went 7-2. Gifford Zimmerman was the first player in team history to wear the fabled No. 44. The number remained in circulation until it was retired in 2005, but was not worn after 1998.

1922
Third-year coach John Meehan led the Orange to a 6-1-2 record. The team's only loss was a 21-14 decision to Pittsburgh. The season saw the beginning of the Penn State series, which started with a scoreless tie at the Polo Grounds in New York City. Roy Simmons Sr. was the squad's quarterback, marking the start of a relationship between the Simmons family and Syracuse University Athletics that continues to this day. After his playing career concluded in 1924, Simmons coached the Orange lacrosse and boxing teams, as well as served as an assistant football coach. Roy Simmons Jr. was Syracuse's men's lacrosse coach from 1971 through 1998, taking the reins of the program from his father when he retired in 1970. Roy Simmons III is the men's lacrosse team's current director of operations. Future College Football Hall of Fame coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf earned second-team All-America honors at tackle.

1923
All-America end Evander (Pete) MacRae was part of an Orange defense that allowed only 19 points and posted seven shutouts. Syracuse went 8-1 with its only loss a 16-7 defeat against rival Colgate. The first football game ever played at Yankee Stadium also featured Syracuse, a 3-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

1924
The Orange won eight games (8-2-1 overall) for the second consecutive year and defeated Boston College for the 200th victory in program history on Oct. 18. Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf was named an All-American for the third time.

1925
Clarence Thomas became the first quarterback to wear the storied No. 44. He led the team to an 8-1-1 record in C.W.P. Reynolds' first year as head coach. The defense posted a school-record six consectutive shutouts. End Vic Hanson was an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1926
Behind Vic Hanson, the Orange outscored their opponents 225-59 on their way to a 7-2-1 record. Hanson earned All-America honors again and captained the basketball team during the winter months. Hanson is the only athlete enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

1927
In his first year as head coach, Lew Andreas led Syracuse to four straight wins to start the season and a 5-3-2 overall record.

1928
After a 3-0 start, the Orange finished the year with a 4-4-1 mark. The team scored a season-high 58 points in a win against Johns Hopkins on Oct. 13.

1929
Lew Andreas, who was Syracuse's basketball coach from 1924 through 1950, completed his three-year stint as football coach by guiding the Orange to a 6-3 season. Syracuse played the first night game in the East, beating Hobart, 77-0.

1930
Vic Hanson returned to Syracuse to coach the Orange after playing briefly in the New York Yankees farm system, highlighting his multi-faceted athletic ability. The Orange went 5-2-2 in Hanson's first year and end George Ellert was named an All-American.

1931
Syracuse outscored its foes 238-56 en route to a 7-1-1 season that featured seven straight wins to open the year.

1932
A 4-4-1 season included the program's 250th victory, a 27-6 win against Oglethorpe on Nov. 5.

1933
After a 3-0 start that included dominant wins against Clarkson and Ohio Wesleyan, Syracuse closed the season with a 4-4 record under fourth-year head coach Vic Hanson.

1934
All-America tackle James Steen led the Orange to a 6-2 record. Syracuse's six victories included back-to-back shutouts of Penn State and Michigan State.

1935
The Orange won six games for the second year in a row and finished the season 6-1-1. Senior guard Ed Jontos became Syracuse's first pro football draft pick when he was selected 45th overall by the New York Giants in the 1936 NFL Draft.

1936
The Orange defeated Clarkson to start the season, but lost their final seven games. Vic Hanson concluded his Syracuse coaching tenure with a seven-year record of 33-21-5.

1937
Ossie Solem succeeded Vic Hanson as head coach and led the team to a 5-2-1 mark. After starting 3-0, Syracuse made its first appearance in the Associated Press college football poll, debuting at No. 17 on Oct. 18 after defeating Cornell.

1938
Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, one of the first African-American quarterbacks to play college football, led Syracuse to a stunning 19-17 comeback win against Cornell and a 5-3 overall record. Among Sidat-Singh's teammates were Olympic sprinter and legendary announcer Marty Glickman, and the great Michigan State coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty. Sidat-Singh was also a star for the Orange on the basketball court. His basketball jersey was retired in February 2005.

1939
Syracuse went 3-3-2 and won its last two games. The defense set a team record, holding opponents to a 33.3 percent completion rate on forward passes.

1940
The Orange beat NYU 47-13 on Oct. 12. The game was played at Yankee Stadium in the Bronx in front of 8,000 people. The victory was part of a 3-4-1 campaign for fourth-year coach Ossie Solem.

1941
The Orange posted a 5-2-1 record and returned to the national rankings, checking in at No. 18 in the AP poll after a 27-20 triumph at Wisconsin. The Syracuse special teams unit set the school record for most punt return yards (662).

1942
Winning the first five games of the season, the Orange were ranked as high as 15th in the AP poll and went on to finish with a 6-3 record.

1943
Syracuse University suspended intercollegiate sports due to World War II.

1944
The Orange concluded the year with a 2-4-1 record, including playing a game against Boston College at historic Fenway Park.

1945
Ossie Solem ended his eight-year Syracuse coaching stint, guiding the Orange to a 1-6 record. He finished with a 30-27-6 overall coaching mark.

1946
Future College Football Hall of Famer Clarence L. "Biggie" Munn served as Orange head coach and went 4-5 in his only year at the helm. Munn later coached at Michigan State. The Orange program enjoyed its 300th win, a 28-7 victory against Temple.

1947
Reaves Baysinger became head coach and promptly changed the Orange's uniform from a blue jersey with orange numbers to white to go along with khaki moleskin pants. He led Syracuse to a 3-6 record.

1948
In the second and final year for head coach Reaves Baysinger, the Orange amassed a 1-8 record. The team's only win was a 13-9 season-opening victory against Niagara.

1949
Ben Schwartzwalder was hired as head coach after five consecutive losing seasons. Schwartwalder won four games in his first year, including a 35-7 triumph over rival Colgate.

1950
A 5-5 season featured a four-game winning streak in the middle of the year. Avatus Stone set the school record (since tied) by intercepting three passes in a 27-7 win versus Penn State.

Legendary running back Jim Brown was voted Syracuse's first unanimous All-American as a senior in 1956.

1951
Syracuse enjoyed its first winning season since 1942, logging a 5-4 mark. The Syracuse defense forced a school-record nine turnovers against Lafayette. Off the field, Howard Jones and Buck O'Neill were the first individuals associated with the program to be inducted into the College Football Hall Fame.

1952
Tackles Robert Fleck and William Skyinskus earned All-America honors, leading Syracuse to a 7-2 record and its first bowl appearance. Syracuse lost to Alabama 61-6 in the Orange Bowl. Future Pro Football Hall of Fame center Jim Ringo concluded his three-year Orange career.

1953
Robert Fleck moved to guard and earned his second consecutive All-America award as the Orange finished 5-3-1 during head coach Ben Schwartzwalder's fifth season in charge.

1954
A halfback from Long Island, well down the preseason depth chart, was issued jersey No. 44. His name was Jim Brown. Syracuse finished 4-4 and won three of its last four games.

1955
The Syracuse defense shined, allowing 35 completions on 95 pass attempts – still team records for the fewest season completions and attempts by the opposition. Jim Brown earned All-America honors in his second season and the Orange finished with a 5-3 record. They were ranked as high as No. 18 in the AP poll.

1956
With a bowl bid on the line in the regular-season finale versus Colgate, Jim Brown scored a then NCAA-record 43 points in Syracuse's 61-7 victory. The Orange completed the regular season 7-1, earning an invitation to the Cotton Bowl, where it lost 28-27 to TCU. Brown broke the Syracuse single-season rushing record with 986 yards and became the first unanimous All-American in school history. Brown went on to a Hall of Fame career with the NFL's Cleveland Browns after he was the sixth overall selection by the Browns in the 1957 NFL Draft. In 1995, Brown was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

1957
All-America end Dick Lasse led Syracuse to a 5-3-1 record. The Orange recorded the 350th win in team history with a 26-9 victory against Nebraska.

1958
Tackle Ronald Luciano, a future Major League Baseball umpire, earned All-America honors. The Orange posted an 8-2 record behind a defense recorded four shutouts and allowed just 59 points during the season. Syracuse lost to No. 5 Oklahoma 21-6 in the Orange Bowl.

1959
NATIONAL CHAMPIONS
Undefeated, untied and national champions, the Orange capped an 11-0 season with their first bowl win, a 23-14 victory over Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse enjoyed its finest year on the gridiron, pulverizing foes both offensively and defensively. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 games (19.3 ypg). On offense, the Orange averaged 451 yards a game. The team featured five All-Americans, including guard Roger Davis, who was the seventh overall selection by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft.

1960
Halfback Ernie Davis earned one of his two first-team All-America honors for the 7-2 Orange. Syracuse spent two weeks ranked No. 1 in the UPI poll. The team won its first five games to extend its school-record winning streak to 16 games before a home loss to Pittsburgh on Oct. 29 ended the run. The Philadelphia Eagles selected fullback Art Baker with the 14th overall pick in the 1961 NFL Draft.

1961
Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, becoming the first African-American to receive college football's most prestigious award. Along the way, he broke Jim Brown's career rushing record and led the Orange to an 8-3 season, capped by a Liberty Bowl win against Miami (Fla.). Davis, who was later enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame, was the top pick in the 1962 NFL Draft. He died of leukemia less than two years later.

1962
The Orange began the year 1-3, but recovered to finish 5-5. End Walt Sweeney was a first-round selection by the AFL's San Diego Chargers in the 1963 draft.

1963
The Orange won seven of their last eight contests to finish 12th in the UPI poll with an 8-2 record. John Mackey began his NFL career as a tight end for the Baltimore Colts, where he eventually played in two Super Bowls. In 1992, Mackey was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL CHRONOLOGY

1964
Sophomore halfback Floyd Little, who was recruited to Syracuse by Ernie Davis, earned All-America honors from three selectors in his first season. Center Pat Killorin also received All-America accolades. The team went 7-4 and made an appearance in the Sugar Bowl, losing to LSU, 13-10. The program celebrated its 400th win – a 38-6 victory against Kansas – on Sept. 26.

1965
All-Americans Floyd Little (halfback), Charles Brown (defensive halfback) and Pat Killorin (center) led the Orange to a 7-3 record. Syracuse was 19th in the final UPI poll and won five of its last six games. Little led the nation in all-purpose yards (1,990), punt return average (23.5) and touchdowns scored (19).

1966
Halfback Floyd Little and fullback Larry Csonka, the greatest one-two running punch in Orange history, powered the team to an 8-3 record and a Gator Bowl berth. Little set a Syracuse bowl-game record with 216 yards rushing, while Csonka added 114 in an 18-12 loss to Tennessee. Little, Csonka and tackle Gary Bugenhagen earned All-America honors. Little was selected by the Denver Broncos with the sixth pick in the 1967 NFL/AFL Draft.

1967
Larry Csonka earned All-America honors for the second year in a row after rushing for 1,127 yards and eight touchdowns to propel Syracuse to an 8-2 record. The Miami Dolphins selected Csonka, who went on to be enshrined in both the College and Pro Football Halls of Fame, with the eighth pick in the 1968 NFL/AFL Draft.

1968
The Orange rose to No. 10 in the national polls and finished with a 6-4 record. Defensive halfback Anthony Kyasky, defensive end Lou Gubitosa, defensive tackle Art Thoms and defensive back Cliff Ensley earned All-America honors. Thoms was the 22nd overall selection by the Oakland Raiders in the 1969 NFL/AFL Draft.

1969
The Orange were 5-5 with back-to-back shutouts of Arizona and Navy in November. Against Penn State, Greg Allen set the single-game record for most individual punt return yards with 172.

1970
Facing a boycott by a group of Black players, Syracuse was outscored 100-29 in its first three games, but rebounded to win six of its last seven contests. The "Syracuse Eight," as the group was called by the media, sat out the season calling for the equal treatment of players and a diverse coaching staff. On the field, All-America defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann led the Orange to a 6-4 record.

1971
All-American Tommy Myers intercepted a Syracuse single-season record eight passes during a 5-5-1 campaign in which a 28-24 win against West Virginia gave the program its 450th victory.

1972
The Syracuse streak of 22 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end. The Orange lost at West Virginia in the season finale to finish 5-6. Defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann was the 10th overall pick in the 1973 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Colts.

1973
Ben Schwartzwalder retired after a 2-9 season. Schwartzwalder led the Orange to a 153-91-3 record in 25 years as head coach. He was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1982. Guard Dave Lapham was voted an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1974
Syracuse started Coach Frank Maloney's seven-year tenure with a 23-15 triumph against Oregon State, but lost nine of its last 10 to close the season 2-9.

1975
All-American Ray Preston led the Orange to a 6-5 record and was invited to play in the East-West Shrine Bowl. Preston enjoyed a nine-year (1976-84) NFL career as a linebacker for the San Diego Chargers.

1976
After a 3-8 campaign, Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American Tim Moresco played in the last American Bowl. He intercepted a pass for the victorious North squad.

1977
Syracuse posted its second winning season under Frank Maloney, going 6-5, including four consecutive victories to end the year.

1978
Joe Morris set the school freshman rushing record with 1,001 yards. It was a performance that included a then-school season record four consecutive 100-yard games. In the final game at Archbold Stadium, Morris ran for 203 yards to power the Orange to a 20-17 victory against nationally-ranked Navy. Syracuse bid farewell to Archbold having compiled a 261-104-20 record at the facility.

1979
With the razing of Archbold Stadium and the construction of the Carrier Dome, Syracuse spent the entire season on the road playing "home" games in the Meadowlands, Buffalo and Ithaca. Despite the obstacles, the Orange went 7-5 and defeated McNeese State in the Independence Bowl with future NFL players Joe Morris, Art Monk, Bill Hurley, Craig Wolfley, Gary Anderson and Jim Collins leading the way. Monk was the 18th overall selection in the 1980 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.

1980
The dawn of a new era began on Sept. 20 with the opening of the Carrier Dome. Joe Morris scored four touchdowns and racked up 300 all-purpose yards as the Orange christened their new home with a 36-24 win against Miami (Ohio). An all-time Syracuse record-crowd of 50,564 witnessed the event. The Orange were 5-6 in Frank Maloney's last year as head coach.

1981
Down-easterner Dick MacPherson arrived on the scene, replacing Frank Maloney as head coach. MacPherson guided the Orange to a 4-6-1 mark in his first year, including consecutive wins against Boston College and West Virginia to end the season. Running back Joe Morris concluded his career as Syracuse's all-time leading rusher. He and kicker Gary Anderson both earned All-America honors.

THE SYRACUSE 8

In 1970, a group of Syracuse University football team members, known today as the "Syracuse 8," showed extraordinary courage and commitment by calling for the equal treatment of student-athletes and a diverse coaching staff. As talented scholarship athletes, these men were aware of the potential consequences of their actions. Despite this risk, they took a strong, principled stand. When their calls for action were not honored, they made the difficult decision to leave the team and give up a game they loved and the potential professional success it could bring.

Although mistakenly dubbed the "Syracuse 8" by media reports in 1970, the group included nine individuals: Gregory Allen '72, Richard Bulls '73, John Godbolt '73, Dana Harrell '71, G '73, John Lobon '73, Clarence "Bucky" McGill '72, A. Alif Muhammad '71, Duane Walker '80 and Ron Womack '71.

At a special ceremony in October 2006, former Syracuse University Chancellor and President Nancy Cantor awarded these former Orange football players the University's Chancellor's Medal.

"These events celebrate the courage and determination of the 'Syracuse 8' to stand up for their values and principles, even in the face of great personal sacrifice," Cantor said. "These alumni are emblematic of the values we want for our students and for ourselves when we face critical issues of justice and equality. Their courage stands today as a beacon and lesson for all of us as we continue to strive for a more just University, community and society."

The group was also recognized at halftime of the Orange's game against Louisville. During the ceremony the group was presented with their Syracuse letterman's jackets, which they never received after leaving the team.

In 2005, several of the players returned to campus for a panel discussion on the events surrounding the "Syracuse 8." Following that event, Art Monk '80 led an effort to create a special University committee to consider, and ultimately plan, a formal recognition and honoring of the group. Committee members included Monk, Gregory Allen '72, Dave Bing '66, Peter J. Estrada '82, Daryl Gross, Carmen Harlow '78, John L. Johnson, Floyd Little '67, John Lobon '73, Larry Martin, Angela Y. Robinson '78, Diane M. Weathers '71, Barry L. Wells and Roosevelt R. "Rick" Wright Jr. G'93.

Today, the "Syracuse 8" Courage Award is presented annually to a student-athlete who has overcome a socially, economically or otherwise disadvantaged background or serious injury and, in the opinion of his or her coaches and teammates, has demonstrated uncommon bravery or highly principled behavior in the face of adversity.

1982
Ben Schwartzwalder, the winningest coach in Syracuse football history, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. On the field, defensive tackle Michael Charles was named a first-team All-American for the 2-9 Orange.

1983
The Orange turned in their first winning season since 1979, going 6-5 in Dick MacPherson's third year as head coach. In addition, Syracuse hit a program milestone by winning its 500th game, 14-7, against Navy.

1984
Syracuse native Tim Green earned the first of two consecutive first-team All-America certificates at defensive tackle. Green and his teammates grabbed the nation's attention with a 17-9 home victory against No. 1 Nebraska during a 6-5 season.

1985
Syracuse began a run of seven bowl appearances in eight seasons, earning a spot opposite Maryland in the Cherry Bowl. Syracuse lost to the Terps 35-18 to close the year with a 7-5 record. Defensive tackle Tim Green was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row. Green, who was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001, was the 17th overall selection in the 1986 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons.

1986
After an 0-4 start, the Orange won five of their final seven games to set the stage for a remarkable 1987 season.

1987
Dick MacPherson's bunch ended the regular season with an undefeated 11-0 record and earned a trip to the Sugar Bowl, Syracuse's first New Year's Day bowl bid since 1965. Auburn's Win Lyle kicked a last-second field goal to force a 16-16 tie, the first deadlock in Sugar Bowl history. Consensus All-American Don McPherson finished second in the Heisman race, but won several other player of the year awards. Nose guard Ted Gregory was also a consensus All-American. MacPherson was the consensus pick for national coach of the year and the Orange finished No. 4 in both polls.

1988
Syracuse put together consecutive double-digit win seasons for the first time, capping a 10-2 campaign with a decisive 23-10 victory against LSU in the Hall of Fame Bowl. Defensive back Markus Paul was named a first-team All-American by four selectors (AP, FWAA, Sporting News, Football News).

1989
Syracuse football observed its 100th birthday and earned a third straight bowl invitation. This time John Biskup hit a last-minute field goal to edge Georgia 19-18 in the Peach Bowl to cap an 8-4 season. Center John Flannery and wide receiver Rob Moore earned first-team All-America recognition. Moore entered his name in the 1990 NFL Supplemental Draft and was selected first overall by the New York Jets.

The 1990 Orange earned the program's fourth consecutive bowl berth and defeated Arizona 28-0 in the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii.

1990
The Orange finished the regular season with a 6-4-2 record and garnered an invitation to the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu. Syracuse put the finishing touches on its third straight bowl win by shutting out Arizona, 28-0. The Wildcats had not been blanked in 19 seasons (214 games), the second-longest streak in NCAA history at the time. Center John Flannery was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row.

1991
Assistant coach Paul Pasqualoni replaced Dick MacPherson as head coach when MacPherson left to coach the NFL's New England Patriots. The Orange also joined the BIG EAST Football Conference after spending years as an Eastern independent. Pasqualoni led the Orange to a 10-2 record, a perfect 5-0 BIG EAST mark, and a 24-17 win against Ohio State in the Hall of Fame Bowl on New Year's Day. Qadry Ismail earned first-team All-America honors as a kick returner and became the school's first two-sport All-American since Jim Brown. Ismail's second All-America award was for track & field.

1992
Paul Pasqualoni and the Orange again won 10 games and made their second straight New Year's Day bowl appearance, knocking off Colorado 26-22 at the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. It was the fifth straight bowl victory for Syracuse, the second-longest postseason winning streak in the country at the time behind Florida State. Tight end Chris Gedney was a unanimous All-America selection.

1993
Another year, another winning season. The Orange finished with a 6-4-1 overall mark. Breaking records was a regular occurrence during the campaign. Marvin Graves set new standards in almost every passing and total offense category, while Shelby Hill, Pat O'Neill and Kevin Mitchell also etched their names in Syracuse's record book.

1994
In keeping with the tone of the recent past, the Orange recorded an eighth straight winning season, finishing 7-4 overall. The passing combination of Kevin Mason to Marvin Harrison was prominent throughout the year, while the return of linebacker Dan Conley for a sixth season of competition after numerous knee surgeries was a story of perseverance and dedication.

1995
A young Syracuse team posted a 9-3 record and a victory over Clemson in the Gator Bowl. The emergence of Donovan McNabb and his chemistry with receiver Marvin Harrison provided thrills and records, as Harrison established himself as one of the all-time great receivers and return men at Syracuse. Harrison was the 19th overall pick in the 1996 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts. Defensively, cornerback Kevin Abrams earned first-team All-America honors.

1996
Despite an 0-2 start, the Orange won a share of the BIG EAST title once again and were among the nation's elite. An eight-game winning streak in the middle of the season resulted in another bowl bid. Syracuse beat Houston in the Liberty Bowl for its seventh consecutive postseason victory, which was the nation's longest bowl winning streak at the time. Cornerback Kevin Abrams received first-team All-America plaudits for the second year in a row.

1997
Syracuse won its first outright BIG EAST championship, clinching the crown with a 33-18 triumph at Miami (Fla.). After starting the year 1-3, a 30-19 victory against Tulane ignited an eight-game winning streak. A 35-18 loss to Kansas State in the Fiesta Bowl did not detract from the fact the Orange were one of six teams to receive a Bowl Alliance bid. Safety Donovin Darius was a first-team All-America selection.

1998
After a 34-33 loss to eventual national champion Tennessee in the opener, the Orange defeated the previous year's national title winner, Michigan, the following week. From there, Syracuse went 7-3 to win its second outright BIG EAST title and third conference championship in a row. The Orange earned a Bowl Championship Series (BCS) berth in the first season of the BCS and lost to Florida in the Orange Bowl – Donovan McNabb's last game. McNabb was selected with the second overall pick by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft, the highest a Syracuse quarterback has ever been taken. Kick returner Kevin Johnson earned first-team All-America honors.

1999
Syracuse earned a bowl invitation for the fifth straight year and the 11th time in 13 seasons. The Orange were 7-5 in the last year of the millennium and closed the century with a 20-13 victory against Kentucky in the Music City Bowl. All-America linebacker Keith Bulluck was selected in the first round (30th overall) of the 2000 NFL Draft by the Tennessee Titans. The University recognized the program's All-Century Team at the final home game versus Temple.

2000
Syracuse ran its streak of consecutive winning seasons to 14 with a 6-5 record. Cornerback Will Allen was taken with the 22nd overall pick in the first round of the 2001 NFL Draft by the New York Giants.

2001
Syracuse recorded its 15th straight winning season, posting a 10-3 record and topping Kansas State in the Insight.com Bowl. Unanimous All-American Dwight Freeney was selected in the first round of the 2002 NFL Draft, marking the fifth consecutive year that a Syracuse player heard his name called in the opening round.

2002
The Orange's string of winning seasons came to an end as Syracuse finished 4-8. The team played two triple-overtime games, including a 50-42 victory against No. 8 Virginia Tech. Quarterback Troy Nunes ended his time on The Hill ranked in the top five on 10 different school record lists. Linebacker Clifton Smith and punter Mike Shafer also concluded fine careers. In November, former quarterback Donovan McNabb was named to the University's Board of Trustees.

2003
Running back Walter Reyes established single-season records for rushing touchdowns (21) and total touchdowns (22) in leading the Orange to a 6-6 record. Receiver Johnnie Morant, defensive tackle Christian Ferrara and offensive tackle Kevin Sampson entered Syracuse's NFL Draft fraternity.

2004
Walter Reyes capped his college career as the program's second-leading rusher with 3,424 yards. The Orange earned a bowl berth for the first time since 2001, losing the Champs Sports Bowl 51-14 to Georgia Tech in Paul Pasqualoni's last game as head coach. Offensive tackle Adam Terry was chosen by the Baltimore Ravens in the second round of the 2005 NFL Draft.

Head coach Greg Robinson, who also served as defensive coordinator, took over the program. Syracuse went 1-10, but boasted one of the most improved defenses in the country. The Orange jumped 69 spots in the NCAA statistical rankings in passing defense (90th to 21st) and went from 101st to 57th in total defense. Free safety Anthony Smith led a group of four seniors who were selected in the 2006 NFL Draft. Smith was picked in the third round by the defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

2006
Freshman Delone Carter emerged as a capable ball carrier during a 4-8 season. Carter ran for 713 yards, the second-best total for a first-year player in school history. Cornerback Tanard Jackson and linebacker Kelvin Smith were selected in the 2007 NFL Draft.

2007
The Orange went 2-10, but defeated nationally-ranked Louisville in a shootout, 38-35. Receiver Mike Williams had a touchdown reception in nine straight games, while the kick return duo of Max Suter and Mike Holmes also had big years. The pair keyed an Orange unit that led the BIG EAST in kickoff return average (24.8). Suter paced the FBS ranks with a nation-best 1,299 kickoff return yards.

2008
The world premiere of "The Express," the life story of Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis, was held in downtown Syracuse prior to the Orange's game against Penn State. On the field, Syracuse was 3-9 in Greg Robinson's final year as head coach. The team's biggest win was a last-minute, 24-23 victory at Notre Dame. Running back Curtis Brinkley established a Syracuse season record for consecutive 100-yard rushing games (5) and was one of four Orange players to sign with NFL teams after the season. Fullback Tony Fiammetta earned Pro Football Weekly All-America honors.

2009
Doug Marrone returned to his alma mater to serve as the program's 28th head coach. Marrone brought in Syracuse native Greg Paulus to quarterback the Orange after a stellar four-year basketball career at Duke. Paulus led the Orange to a 4-8 record in his only season. Punter Rob Long and defensive tackle Arthur Jones earned All-BIG EAST First Team honors. Jones was selected in the fifth round of the 2010 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens after helping the Orange rank sixth nationally in sacks and 13th in rushing defense.

2010
In his second year at the helm, Doug Marrone led Syracuse back to the postseason. The Orange went 8-5 and beat Kansas State in the inaugural New Era Pinstripe Bowl. Behind linebackers Doug Hogue and Derrell Smith, the Orange ranked seventh nationally in total defense. Running back Delone Carter paced the offense, rushing for 1,233 yards in his final season, including 198 yards against Kansas State to win Pinstripe Bowl MVP honors.

2011
The Orange got off to a 5-2 start, but lost its last five games to finish 5-7. Quarterback Ryan Nassib recorded the best statistical passing season in school history to that point, setting program records for completions (259), attempts (415), yards (2,685) and matching the record for touchdown passes (22). Defensive end Chandler Jones used a standout season to garner the attention of pro scouts. Jones was the first pick of the New England Patriots (21st overall) in the 2012 NFL Draft. Jones, Nick Provo, Andrew Tiller, Antwon Bailey and Justin Pugh were named first-team All-BIG EAST.

2012
In its last year in the BIG EAST, Syracuse won a share of the conference championship and finished 8-5 overall. The Orange captured their second Pinstripe Bowl title in three years, beating West Virginia, 38-14. Quarterback Ryan Nassib surpassed his previous team-record totals, completing 294-of-471 passes for 3,757 yards and 26 touchdowns. Receiver Alec Lemon, offensive tackle Justin Pugh and safety Shamarko Thomas earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors, while Nassib was a Pro Football Weekly All-American. Pugh, Nassib and Thomas were all selected in the 2013 NFL Draft.

2013
Scott Shafer replaced Doug Marrone as head coach after Marrone was hired by the Buffalo Bills. Syracuse was 7-6 in its first year as a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference and defeated Minnesota in the Texas Bowl. Six members of the Orange earned All-ACC honors, including Jay Bromley and Marquis Spruill, who were both selected in the 2014 NFL Draft. Bromley was a third-round pick by the New York Giants. Spruill went in the fifth round to the Atlanta Falcons.

2014
Syracuse opened the year with two-straight wins, but finished the season 3-9 in Scott Shafer's second year as head coach. The Orange were stout defensively, ranking 26th nationally in total defense. Linebacker Cameron Lynch (third team), offensive tackle Sean Hickey (third team) and punter Riley Dixon (HM) received All-ACC plaudits.

2015
The Orange started the year 3-0 for the first time since 1991, but lost their next eight games. A 20-17 victory against Boston College in Scott Shafer's last game as head coach ended the slide, resulting in a 4-8 record. Punter Riley Dixon became the first player in school history to earn All-ACC First Team honors. Dixon was drafted in the seventh round of the 2016 NFL Draft by the Denver Broncos.

2016
Syracuse set or tied more than 40 school records on offense in Dino Babers' first season as head coach. A 31-17 home victory over No. 17 Virginia Tech highlighted a 4-8 season and gave Central New York a glimpse of what Babers' high-octane, spread offense was capable of. Receiver Amba Etta-Tawo had a monster season, catching 94 passes for 1,482 yards and 14 touchdowns. Return man Brisly Estime led the NCAA in punt return average (17.7) and closed his career as the ACC's all-time leader in that category with a four-year mark of 18.0 yards per return. Etta-Tawo earned All-ACC First Team plaudits from both the media and coaches. He also garnered four All-America nods, including second-team honors from Sporting News.

2017
For the second straight season, Syracuse secured a marquee home win, shocking No. 2 Clemson, 27-24. However, injuries at key positions and five losses by nine points or less contributed to another 4-8 finish. Linebacker Zaire Franklin served as a team captain for the third year in row, a first for a Syracuse player in the modern era. Receiver Steve Ishmael caught a school-record 105 passes for 1,347 yards to close his career as the program's all-time leader in receiving yardage (2,891). Position-mate Ervin Philips ended his Orange career with a team-record 223 catches. The 2017 Walter Camp Connecticut Player of the Year, Philips snagged 89 balls, teaming up with Ishmael for an ACC-record 194 combined receptions. Ishmael was a unanimous All-ACC First Team selection and was picked to nine All-America teams. Franklin was selected in the seventh round of the 2018 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts.

2018
Syracuse reclaimed its place on college football's national stage, posting a 10-3 record and finishing No. 15 in the country in both polls. The Orange were unbeaten (6-0) at home and went 6-2 versus conference opponents to finish second in the ACC Atlantic Division behind eventual national champion Clemson. Syracuse earned its first bowl berth since 2013, capping the year with a 34-18 Camping World Bowl triumph against West Virginia. The Orange set school records for points scored (528), rushing touchdowns (38) and sacks (43). Eleven players earned All-ACC honors, including first-team selections Andre Cisco (S), Sterling Hofrichter (P) and Andre Szmyt (PK). Cisco and Szmyt were named All-Americans, with Szmyt earning unanimous first-team distinction. He also won the Lou Groza Award as the nation's best kicker. Quarterback Eric Dungey closed his spectacular career with 25 school records to his name. In addition, the Orange had a player selected in the NFL Draft for the second year in a row. Defensive tackle Chris Slayton was picked in the seventh round by the New York Giants.

2019
A season-opening shutout of Liberty and wins in two of their last three games highlighted a 5-7 season for the Orange. Sterling Hofrichter capped his stellar career by earning All-America honors and setting the program record for career punting yardage (11,651). Wide receiver Trishton Jackson became the first Syracuse junior to record a 1,000-yard receiving season. Defensively, safety Andre Cisco followed up his sensational rookie season by leading the ACC again in interceptions with five, while linebacker Lakiem Williams logged an ACC-best 110 regular-season tackles. Hofrichter (first team), Jackson (second team), Cisco (second team), Williams (third team), placekicker Andre Szmyt (third team) and defensive end Alton Robinson (honorable mention) were named all-conference. Additionally, Robinson and Hofrichter were selected in the NFL Draft. Robinson was picked in the fifth round (148th overall) by the Seattle Seahawks and Hofrichter was taken in the seventh round (228th overall) by the Atlanta Falcons.

2020
The 2020 season was one of the most unique in college football and sports history due to the challenges created by the COVID-19 Pandemic. In a season where Syracuse couldn't have any fans at home games, and only played in front of a crowd at all on four occasions, the Orange managed to play all-11 games on its schedule without a single player having to miss a game due to a positive COVID test. Syracuse was one of the only schools in the country to make that claim. Ultimately, the team finished 1-10, but saw Ifeatu Melifonwu and Andre Cisco drafted in the third round of the 2021 NFL Draft.

2021
The most prolific individual rushing season and a top-20 defense nationally had the Orange much improved from 2020. Ultimately the team finished 5-7, with three losses coming on the game's final play being the difference from bowl eligibility. Sean Tucker was an All-American after breaking Joe Morris' single-season rushing record (1,496). He was joined on the First Team All-ACC squad by Mikel Jones and Cody Roscoe.

2022
Syracuse returned to the postseason for the first time since 2018, earning a berth in the Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl. The team got off to its best start to a season since 1987, rattling off six straight victories to start the year, before taking No. 5 Clemson to the wire on the road in week seven. However, injuries mounted and a five-game skid left the Orange with a 7-6 finish. Tight end Oronde Gadsden broke the single-season receptions and receiving yards records by a tight end and sophomore, earning First Team All-ACC honors. The defense posted its second-straight season ranked in the top-25 nationally of total defense and the program also saw two players selected in the first 75 picks of the NFL Draft, as Matthew Bergeron (round 2/pick 38) and Garrett Williams (round 3/pick 72) were taken by the Atlanta Falcons and Arizona Cardinals, respectively. It was the second time in three years that the Orange saw two players taken in the top-three rounds, but first time the school notched two top-75 picks since 2001.

2023
Syacuse reached the postseason for the second year in a row - the program's first time doing so back-to-back since joining the ACC. The season started promising, with a 4-0 run through the non-conference slate to open the year. The mark was the first perfect non-conference run since the Orange first joined a conference. However, injuries mounted on the offensive side of the ball. Preseason All-American Oronde Gadsden II suffered a season-ending injury week two. Two starting offensive linemen played in a combined three games, and quarterback Garrett Shrader tore his shoulder in week eight, and his backup, Carlos Del Rio Wilson, had his season end a week later. 'Cuse had to pivot to a run-focused wildcat offense that saw them win two of their last three games and earn a spot in the RoofClaim.com Boca Raton Bowl. The season was the final under head coach Dino Babers, who was releived of his duties after a week 11 loss at Georgia Tech. Marlowe Wax Jr. (second team - linebacker), LeQuint Allen Jr. (second team - running back) and Jack Stonehouse (third team - punter) earned All-ACC honors, while four others were named honorable mention selections.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Founded in 1951 by the National Football Foundation, the College Football Hall of Fame immortalizes the greatest of the amateur gridiron.

With 19 inductees, Syracuse is one of the most well-represented schools in the Hall. The Orange rank second behind Pittsburgh (25) for the most honorees among ACC programs.

Originally slated to be built on the Rutgers University campus – home of the first college football game in 1869 – the Hall ultimately found its first home in Kings Mill, Ohio in 1978. The Ohio location closed in 1992 and the Hall relocated to South Bend, Indiana where it resided from 1995 to 2012. In 2014, the College Football Hall of Fame opened in Atlanta where it is home to approximately 1,250 enshrinees.

Syracuse coaches Frank O'Neill and Howard Jones were members of the first induction class in 1951. Three years later, in 1954, three-time All-American Joe Alexander became the first Orange player inducted. Defensive end Dwight Freeney is the program's most recent honoree in the 2023 class.

Former Syracuse head coach Dick MacPherson (third from left) celebrated his Hall of Fame induction with three of his former players (L-R): Doug Marrone, Tim Green and Don McPherson.

Art Monk was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2012 in recognition of a standout career that included leading the Orange to a victory in the 1979 Independence Bowl.

Don McPherson celebrated his College Football Hall of Fame induction with friends and former teammates on Nov. 1, 2008 versus Louisville.

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

Syracuse University's All-Century Football Team featured a Heisman Trophy winner and nine College Football Hall of Famers. The team was comprised of players from eight different decades, including several Orange standouts who showcased their talents in the NFL. Donovan McNabb, Marvin Harrison and Daryl Johnston were just a few of many All-Century honorees who went on to professional football stardom.

The team was announced on Oct. 27, 1999 following a selection process that included more than 6,000 fan votes. The criteria for selecting the team included all players who significantly impacted Syracuse football with special consideration for those who were members of the College Football Hall of Fame, All-Americans or who played in the NFL. Nominees were selected by three prominent figures associated with the Orange football program: Sports Information Director Emeritus Larry Kimball, former Syracuse Newspapers Sports Editor Arnie Burdick and former player, coach and administrator Joe Szombathy.

"Being selected to this elite team typifies the tremendous success that Syracuse football achieved throughout the 20th century. Some of these athletes are among the greatest to ever play college football. It was an honor for us to recognize their talents and contributions at our final home game of the century," former Syracuse Director of Athletics Jake Crouthamel said.

Members of the All-Century Team were honored at halftime against Temple on Nov. 6, 1999.

RETIRED NUMBERS & JERSEYS

Since Syracuse University began fielding an intercollegiate football team in 1889, only one number (44) and six jerseys have been retired. The No. 44 was worn by 25 Orange standouts, including Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little. The jerseys belonged to six of the greatest players in Syracuse football history not to wear 44 – Larry Csonka, John Mackey, Donovan McNabb, Don McPherson, Joe Morris and Tim Green.

THE LEGEND OF 44

Like tailbacks at USC, quarterbacks at Brigham Young and linebackers at Penn State, the running back position at Syracuse has a rich tradition of greatness. Much of that excellence has revolved around one jersey number – 44.

On Nov. 12, 2005 the number was retired. A No. 44 jersey is displayed in the Dome rafters, honoring the legends who wore it.

Beginning with Gifford Zimmerman in 1921, 25 players sported the number during their careers. Rob Konrad was the last in 1998. Three of the most famous to don the historic digits – Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little – are enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame and rank among the finest runners to ever play the game.

Over time, the number's significance has extended beyond athletics and has come to represent something special for Syracuse University students, alumni, faculty and staff. It is an iconic and irreplaceable part of the school's fabric. Just how much does the No. 44 mean to the University and local community? For starters, the University zip code was changed from 13210 to 13244 several years ago. In 1988, when the University switched phone systems, the exchange was changed from 423 to 443. Thirty years later, in 2018, the tradition continued with a new way to pay tribute to the number. That fall, Orange Central featured the University's first 44th milestone reunion, bringing the Class of 1974 back together during Syracuse's annual homecoming and reunion weekend.

A committee has been established to oversee No. 44. Under very special circumstances, the committee can permit a current student-athlete to wear it.

39 • LARRY CSONKA, FB

Years: 1965-67 • Jersey Retired: 2007

Csonka led the Orange in rushing twice. He was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year and ranks fifth on Syracuse's all-time rushing list (2,934 yards). Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated. Csonka was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

88 • JOHN MACKEY, TE

Years: 1960-62 • Jersey Retired: 2007

Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He led the Orange in receiving yardage in 1961 and 1962. Mackey went on to become an All-Pro for the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler, he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1992. Mackey died in 2011 at the age of 69. Each year since 2000, the John Mackey Award has been presented to the nation's top collegiate tight end.

5 • DONOVAN McNABB, QB

Years: 1995-98 • Jersey Retired: 2013

McNabb led the Orange to three straight BIG EAST titles from 1996-98. He was fifth in the Heisman Trophy balloting as a senior and holds the school records for most career touchdown passes (77) and touchdowns responsible for (96). A four-time All-BIG EAST First Team selection, McNabb was taken second overall by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft. He was a six-time Pro Bowler in his 11 years with the franchise and played a total of 13 NFL seasons.

9 • DON McPHERSON, QB

Years: 1983-87 • Jersey Retired: 2013

McPherson authored one of the best seasons in school history in 1987. The Heisman Trophy runner-up, McPherson won the Maxwell (Most Outstanding Player) and Davey O'Brien (Most Outstanding Quarterback) awards after guiding the Orange to an 11-0-1 record. His 164.3 passer rating led the NCAA and stands as the Syracuse single-season record. McPherson played seven professional seasons in the NFL and CFL. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008.

47 • JOE MORRIS, RB

Years: 1978-81 • Jersey Retired: 2018

Morris holds or shares 15 school records, including the single-game (252 yards), single-season (1,372 yards in 1979) and career (4,299 yards) rushing records. He posted three 1,000-yard rushing seasons and earned All-America honors in 1979 and 1981. Morris was drafted by the New York Giants in 1982 and played eight seasons in the NFL. He was a two-time Pro Bowl selection and helped the 1986 Giants win the franchise's first Super Bowl.

72 • TIM GREEN, DT

Years: 1982-85 • Jersey Retired: 2019

Green was the first defensive player to have his jersey retired by the program. A member of Syracuse's All-Century team, Green tallied a school-record 45.5 sacks and 341 career tackles, the most by a down lineman in team history, from 1982-85. He was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and a Rhodes Scholarship finalist before going on to a successful NFL career with the Atlanta Falcons. An accomplished broadcaster, author and lawyer, Green was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001.

RING OF HONOR

Established in 2020, the "Ring of Honor' is an honor bestowed upon individuals named as one of Syracuse University's most outstanding student-athletes or coaches to compete and/or coach their associated collegiate sport. This honor enshrines an honoree within the JMA Wireless Dome by permanently displaying an honoree's name on the inner most façade of the stadium.

44 • JIM BROWN, RB

Years: 1954-56 • Enshrined: 2020

A 1995 inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, "The Greatest of All Time" played three seasons (1954-56) for the Orange. He rushed for 2,091 yards and 23 touchdowns during his career and was voted the first unanimous All-American in team history as a senior in 1956.

Brown, who finished fifth in the 1956 Heisman Trophy balloting, averaged 123.3 rushing yards per game (986 in eight games) and led the nation with 13 rushing touchdowns to propel Syracuse to the Cotton Bowl. In 1955, Brown led the NCAA in kickoff return average (32.0). He also excelled on defense, logging eight career interceptions.

The No. 6 pick in the 1957 NFL Draft, Brown played nine years (1957-1965) for the Cleveland Browns. He led the NFL in rushing eight times and won NFL Player of the Year awards. A 1971 Pro Football Hall of Fame inductee, Brown was named to the NFL 100 All-Time Team in December of 2019.

In 2020, ESPN named Brown No. 1 on its list of the 150 greatest players ever in college football. He passed away on May 18, 2023.

44 • ERNIE DAVIS, RB

Years: 1959-61 • Enshrined: 2020

They called him "The Elmira Express." Ernest R. Davis became the first African-American and the only SU player to win the Heisman trophy. Nothing Ernie Davis did on or off the field at Syracuse University ever detracted from the nickname he earned at Elmira Free Academy.

Davis, a superbly-conditioned 6-foot-2 inch, 205-pound halfback, played a key role in SU's drive to its only football national championship -- and he was only a sophomore at the time.

Davis set eight SU career, season and single-game football records, including most net rushing yards (2,386), touchdowns (35) and points scored (220) in three years. He is currently ninth on Syracuse's career rushing yards record list with 2,386 yards.

A unanimous selection for his second All-America honor, Davis was then honored as the 1961 Heisman Trophy winner, becoming the first Black athlete to capture the coveted award.

Shortly after being selected first overall in the 1962 NFL Draft, Davis was diagnosed with leukemia, and passed away on May 18, 1963.

44 • FLOYD LITTLE, RB

Years: 1964-66 • Enshrined: 2020

A three-time All-American for the Orange from 1964-66, Little rushed for 2,704 yards and scored 46 touchdowns. He was also a standout return man who led the nation in all-purpose yards (1,990) and punt return average (23.5) as a junior in 1965. He still holds the Syracuse career record with six punt returns for touchdowns. The 1966 ECAC Player of the Year, Little finished fifth in the Heisman Trophy voting twice.

Following his college career, Little was selected by the Denver Broncos with the No. 6 pick in the 1967 NFL Draft. In nine seasons (1967-75) with the Broncos, he amassed more than 12,000 all-purpose yards and was a five-time Pro Bowl selection. Little ranked seventh on the NFL's career rushing list (6,323 yards) at the time of his retirement and was a charter member of the Broncos Ring of Fame in 1984. Little was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame in 1983 and the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2010.

Born on July 4, 1942 in New Haven, Connecticut, Little passed away on Jan. 1, 2021.

BEN SCHWARTZWALDER, COACH

Years: 1949-73 • Enshrined: 2023

A National Champion coach, who earned a Purple Heart, Silver Star and other accrediations while serving in the military, Schwartzwalder joined the Ring of Honor in 2023.

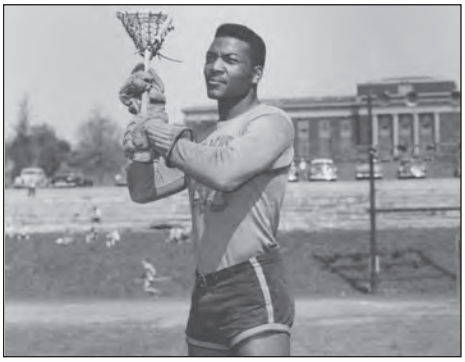
He led the Syracuse football program for or 25 years, guiding the University to unprecedented heights on the gridiron. Under his watch, the Orange reached the pinnacle of college football, claiming the 1959 National Championship, and produced some of the greatest players in the history of the sport – most notably a stable of running backs in Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little, who donned the legendary 44 number that is a symbol of greatness at Syracuse and around college football.

His Orange teams boasted a 153-91-3 record, produced 22-straight seasons without a losing record and finished in the top-15 of the final polls in eight of his seasons. It was the 1959 team that finished atop the polls is his most legendary season. Cemented by a 23-14 win over Texas in the Cotton Bowl to finish undefeated, Schwartzwalder's Orange claimed the only National Championship in program history. Two years later, his squad produced the lone Heisman Trophy winner in school history when Ernie Davis hoisted the trophy.

He passed away in 1993.

Syracuse has a long history of players starring in multiple sports, including Cliff Ensley (above), who is the school's last three-sport letterwinner, doing so in football, lacrosse and wrestling. Many others, perhaps most notably the great Jim Brown, starred in multiple sports at SU.

Some notable multi-sport lettermen:



JIM BROWN

Football, Lacrosse, Basketball, Track

Brown is known as the "Greatest Athlete of All-Time" for good reason. The star running back at Syracuse was also a star in every other sport he played as well.

In addition to being named the Greatest College Football Player of All-Time by ESPN, Brown was a USILA Second Team All-American in lacrosse, finished 10th in the nation in the decathlon in 1955, and was the basketball team's second-leading scorer as a sophomore.

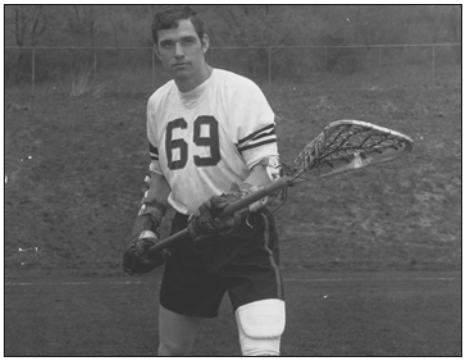
In 2020, the Premier Lacrosse League named its MVP trophy after Brown.

ERNIE DAVIS

Football, Basketball

In between leading Syracuse football to the 1959 National Championship and becoming the Heisman Trophy winner in 1961, Davis suited up for the 'Cuse hoops team.

As a junior in 1960-61, Davis earned a letter on the men's basketball team by averging nearly a double-double over nine games played.



CLIFF ENSLEY

Football, Wrestling, Lacrosse

Ensley was a walk-on student-athlete who earned a football scholarship, setting interception and special teams records as a defensive back. He also was named MVP of the 1969 lacrosse squad, while playing defense and serving as co-captain. He was honored as the 1969 Syracuse Athlete of the Year and is the last three-sport letterman.

Ensley went on to become a successful businessman and University trustee. His transformational gift allowed the University to open The Ensley Athletic Center in 2015.

QADRY ISMAIL

Football, Track and Field

Before his 10-year NFL career and Super Bowl XXXV title, Ismail was a star WR on the Orange football team.

At the same time, he was also starring on the track. He was a two-time All-American in track and field, in the 55-meter hurdles and the 110-meter hurdles.

JOHN MACKEY

Football, Basketball, Lacrosse

In addition to having the award for the nation's best tight end named in his honor, Mackey also played three years on the Orange lacrosse team and one season in basketball (alongside Ernie Davis).

Mackey averaged five points and five boards on the hardwood.

DONOVAN McNABB

Football, Basketball

McNabb is the most recent big time football star to play in another sport.

One of the best quarterbacks in program history, who was taken with the second pock in the NFL Draft, McNabb played in 18 games on the 'Cuse hoops squad over two seasons. He scored a total of 41 points in an SU hoops uniform. While he was a Heisman Finalist in 1998, he was part of quality squads in hoops as well, including the 1996 Final Four team.

CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICANS

MARQUIS (BILL) HORR

Tackle • 1908

The first All-American in the history of Syracuse football, Horr anchored a young offensive line on a team that opened newly-built Archbold Stadium with a win against Hobart in 1907. The next year, Horr led the Orange to a 6-3-1 record and the first victory in school history against a team from the Western Conference (now Big Ten) when Syracuse topped Michigan 28-4 in the season finale. At the 1908 Summer Olympics in London, Horr won the silver medal in the Greek-style discus throw and the bronze in the free-style discus throw. Horr served as the head football coach at Northwestern in 1909 and the head coach at Purdue from 1910 to 1912, compiling a career record of 9-14-2.

HAROLD WHITE

Guard • 1915

White and fellow All-American Christopher Schlacter were the guards on a line that helped Syracuse's offense overpower its opponents by the combined score of 331-16 in 1915. The Orange scored more than 30 points on five occasions and topped the 70-point mark in victories against Mount Union (73-0) and Rochester (82-0). The team finished with an impressive 9-1-2 record and was invited to play Washington in the Rose Bowl, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the travel budget. Standing 6 feet 6 inches tall and weighing more than 270 pounds, White was one of the largest players of his era and captained the Orange in 1916.

ALFRED COBB

Tackle • 1917

A 1917 team captain, Cobb was the anchor for an offensive line that propelled the Orange to an 8-1-1 record, including six straight wins to end the season. Cobb played in the early days of the NFL, when it was still known as the American Professional Football Association (APFA). He suited up for the Akron Pros and the Cleveland Bulldogs. In 1920 with Akron, Cobb was a member of the very first NFL championship team. Over three APFA/NFL seasons, Cobb played in 21 games as a lineman, starting 16 of them.

J.A. (JOE) ALEXANDER

Guard/Center • 1918, 1919

Alexander and Ernie Davis are the only two players in Orange history to earn multiple consensus All-America honors. Alexander starred for Coach Frank O'Neill's teams from 1918-20. He also captained the lacrosse team for one season. Nicknamed "Doc," Alexander graduated from medical school and began practicing in New York City. He specialized in lung treatment and helped found one of the first tuberculosis centers in New York. For seven seasons (1921-27), he played in the National Football League on weekends while practicing medicine. A center in the NFL's early days for the Rochester Jeffersons (1921-22), Milwaukee Badgers (1922) and New York Giants (1925-27), Alexander was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954.

LOUIS USHER

Tackle • 1918

Usher and fellow offensive lineman Joe Alexander anchored the line for the 5-1 Orange in 1918. Usher went on to play professional football for five years for the Rochester Jeffersons, Chicago Stanleys, Chicago Bears, Hammond Pros and Kenosha Maroons. He was tragically killed on Jan. 1, 1927 in an automobile accident near Calumet City, Illinois.

EVANDER (PETE) MacRAE

End • 1923

MacRae led the Orange to an 8-1 overall record in 1923, including seven straight shutouts. The three-year football letterwinner was also the starting center for the Syracuse basketball team. After playing professional basketball for the Syracuse All-Stars, he returned to the University as an assistant basketball coach.

VIC HANSON

End • 1926

A three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball, Hanson was a consensus All-American on the gridiron in 1926 after leading the Orange to a 7-2-1 record. That winter, Hanson powered the Orange basketball team to a 19-1 mark. Following his college career, Hanson played briefly with the Cleveland Rosenblums in the American Basketball League and then formed the Syracuse All-Americans basketball team. The New York Yankees also signed Hanson upon his graduation from Syracuse in 1927 and he played one year in their farm system. Hanson served as head football coach of the Orange from 1930 to 1936, compiling a record of 33-21-5. He is the only player enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

JIM BROWN

Halfback • 1956 *

Brown set the Orange record for average yards per carry (6.2) in 1956 and broke the single-season rushing record with 986 yards. Against Colgate that season, he established school marks for rushing touchdowns (6) and points scored in a game (43). After leaving Syracuse, he played for the NFL's Cleveland Browns from 1957 to 1965 and scored 106 touchdowns. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1971 and College Football Hall of Fame in 1995. In addition to football, Brown excelled at basketball, lacrosse and track. He is a member of the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame and was an All-American midfielder on the Orange's undefeated 1957 team. Brown is considered by many to be the greatest athlete of all-time. During the 2020 CFP National Championship Game, he was crowned the No. 1 player of college football's first 150 years by ESPN.

ROGER DAVIS

Guard • 1959 *

Nicknamed "Hound Dog" because of his love for training hunting dogs, Davis helped fellow All-American Ernie Davis rush for 883 yards in 1959. He was a member of a Syracuse unit that led the country in total offense (451.5 ypg) on its way to winning the national championship. Davis played pro football for the Chicago Bears, Los Angeles Rams and New York Giants. He was a starter at right guard for the Bears in 1963 when they won the NFL championship.

ERNIE DAVIS

Halfback • 1960, 1961 *

Nicknamed the "Elmira Express" by sportswriter Al Mallette, Davis powered Syracuse to a 26-5 record from 1959-61. As a sophomore in 1959, Davis scored two touchdowns against Texas in the Cotton Bowl to help the Orange complete a perfect season and capture the program's only national championship. Two years later, Davis became the first African-American and only Syracuse player to win the Heisman Trophy. He was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in the 1962 NFL Draft and traded to Cleveland. Davis was diagnosed with leukemia the following summer and died in 1963 at the age of 23 without ever playing a professional game. The Browns retired his No. 45 jersey shortly after his death, and Davis was posthumously inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1979. In 2008, he was the subject of the Universal Pictures film "The Express," starring Dennis Quaid, Rob Brown and Charles S. Dutton. The film was based on the non-fiction book "Ernie Davis: The Elmira Express" by Robert C. Gallagher.

LARRY CSONKA

Fullback • 1967 *

Csonka led the Orange in rushing twice and was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year as a senior. He teamed with halfback Floyd Little to form the most potent rushing duo in school history. Csonka holds the Orange record for most carries in a game (43 vs. Maryland in 1967) and ranks fifth on Syracuse's career rushing list (2,934 yards). He recorded two 200-yard rushing games for the Orange, including 204 yards against Cal in 1967. Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated. Csonka was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. In 2007, Syracuse retired Csonka's No. 39 jersey.

TIM GREEN

Defensive Tackle • 1985 *

Green was named the ECAC co-Player of the Year in 1985 and ranks first on Syracuse's career sacks list with 45.5. He remains the program's top tackler among down linemen with 341 career stops. Green played for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001. After his playing career ended, Green became a commentator for the NFL on FOX. A best-selling author and lawyer, Green won the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, given annually to six former student-athletes for distinguished career accomplishments on the 25th anniversary of their college graduation, in December 2011. In 2019, Green became the first defensive player in program history to have his jersey retired.

TED GREGORY

Nose Guard • 1987

Gregory was a force during Syracuse's 11-0-1 season in 1987. He captained a defense that allowed more than 21 points just once in 12 games. He was a finalist for the Lombardi Award, which at the time recognized the most outstanding lineman or linebacker in major college football. Gregory completed his four-year career with 242 tackles, third all-time among Orange defensive linemen, and 17 sacks. He went on to play in the NFL for the New Orleans Saints.

DON McPHERSON

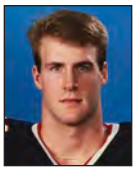
Quarterback • 1987 *

The Heisman Trophy runner-up in 1987, McPherson won the Maxwell (Most Outstanding Player), Davey O'Brien (Most Outstanding Quarterback) and Johnny Unitas Golden Arm (Most Outstanding Senior Quarterback) awards. His 164.3 passer rating that season led the NCAA and stands as an Orange record. He also set the school single-season marks for most yards per pass attempt (10.2) and most yards per completion (18.1). Upon graduating from Syracuse, McPherson spent seven seasons in the NFL and CFL. After retiring from football in 1994, he joined the staff of Northeastern University's Center for the Study of Sport in Society before becoming the first executive director of the Sports Leadership Institute at Adelphi University. McPherson was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008. Syracuse retired McPherson's No. 9 jersey in 2013.

JOHN FLANNERY

Center • 1990

With Flannery as the anchor of the offensive line from 1987-90, Syracuse posted a four-year record of 36-10-3, including a 3-0-1 record in bowl games. A native of Pottsville, Pennsylvania, Flannery started at left guard for Syracuse in 1987 before shifting to center. He was a three-time All-American, earning first-team honors in both 1989 and 1990. He was drafted in the second round by the Houston Oilers and made the NFL All-Rookie Team in 1991. He later made professional stops with the Dallas Cowboys and St. Louis Rams, winning a Super Bowl title as a member of the Rams in 1999. That same year, Flannery was named to Syracuse's All-Century Team.



CHRIS GEDNEY

Tight End • 1992 *

A native of nearby Liverpool, New York, Gedney set the standard for Orange tight ends. He held the school records for most receptions by a tight end in a season (34) and career (91) until 2011. His 34 catches and five touchdowns during the 1992 season helped propel Syracuse to a 10-2 record and a victory over Colorado in the Fiesta Bowl. Gedney played seven seasons in the NFL for the Chicago Bears and Arizona Cardinals. In 2008, he returned to his alma mater as the Orange Club's assistant athletics director for major gifts. He was appointed senior associate athletics director for the Orange Club in 2011, a position he held until his passing in 2018. A member of Syracuse's All-Century Team, Gedney was named a 2015 ACC Football Legend. He also served as the color analyst for Syracuse IMG Sports Network football broadcasts from 2007-2017.

DWIGHT FREENEY

Defensive End • 2001 *

Freeney terrorized opposing quarterbacks from 1998-2001. He holds the Orange records for most sacks in a game (4.5 vs. Virginia Tech in 2000) and season (17.5 in 2001). He finished his career with 34 quarterback takedowns, second only to Tim Green on the Syracuse all-time list. Freeney was team MVP his junior year. As a senior in 2001, he was an All-BIG EAST First Team selection and shared BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year honors. He was also a finalist for the 2001 Lombardi, Bednarik and Nagurski awards. The Indianapolis Colts made Freeney the 11th overall pick in the 2002 NFL Draft. In 2004, Freeney led the NFL with 16 sacks. Two years later, he won a world championship when Indianapolis defeated the Chicago Bears in Super Bowl XLI. Freeney also played for the San Diego Chargers, Arizona Cardinals, Atlanta Falcons, Seattle Seahawks and Detroit Lions during his pro career. He retired in 2018 with 125.5 career sacks.

ANDRE SZMYT

Placekicker • 2018 *

Originally a walk-on, Szmyt authored the best season on record for an Orange specialist as a freshman in 2018. Szmyt became the first player in team history to win the Lou Groza Award as the nation's top kicker, connecting on 30-of-34 (.882) field goals and making all 61 of his extra-point attempts. He led the NCAA in almost every kicking category, including most field goals. Additionally, Szmyt became the second placekicker in FBS history to lead the country in scoring average with 11.6 points per game. Szmyt was a 2018 All-ACC First Team selection and received All-America honors from 14 different selectors, including 12 first-team citations.

* - Unanimous selection

ALL-AMERICANS

The following roster of Syracuse All-Americans consists of only those players who were named to All-America teams that were selected for the national audience and that received nationwide circulation. Not included are the numerous Syracuse players who were selected by newspapers or agencies that were not primarily national and with viewpoints, therefore, they were not normally nationwide in scope.

Defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann (76) was an All-American in 1969, 1970 and 1972. He went on to play 10 seasons in the NFL, including eight with the Baltimore Colts.

JIM BROWN: ALL-TIME ALL-AMERICAN

In conjunction with the 150th anniversary of college football in 2019, ESPN selected an All-Time All-America Team comprised of the greatest players in intercollegiate football history. Among those named to the 25-man team was Syracuse great and 1956 unanimous All-American Jim Brown.

The All-Time All-America Team was derived from the votes of a blue-ribbon panel made up of current and former writers, broadcasters, administrators, sports information directors and ESPN personalities. The panel included Syracuse Executive Senior Associate AD for Communications Sue Edson.

NATIONAL HONORS & AWARDS

THE HEISMAN TROPHY

Honoring the outstanding college football player in the United States. Presented by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York.

ERNIE DAVIS • 1961

In 1961, halfback Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, given to the outstanding intercollegiate football player in the United States. Davis edged out Bill Ferguson of Ohio State, in what was at the time the closest vote in Heisman history (824 points to 771), to become the first African-American and only Syracuse player to win the coveted award. Davis rushed for 823 yards and 12 touchdowns to lead the Orange to an 8-3 record and the No. 14 ranking in the final Associated Press college football poll. Davis was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in 1962 and traded to the Cleveland Browns. While preparing for the AFCA All-American Game in Buffalo, Davis was diagnosed with leukemia. He died in 1963, never getting the chance to realize his dream of teaming with former Syracuse great Jim Brown in the Cleveland Browns backfield. Davis' Heisman Trophy is kept on display in the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex for all to enjoy.

SOLADAY AWARD

It is fitting that the Soladay Award is the most prestigious award given to a student-athlete by the Department of Athletics. After all, Doris R. Soladay epitomized all of the positives in intercollegiate athletics. The Soladay Award is given annually to the top male and female student-athletes who best exemplify the essence of Doris.

From her appointment as the first, and only, Director of Women's Athletics at Syracuse University in 1975 until the day she retired as Associate Director of Athletics on May 31, 1995, Doris dedicated herself to student-athletes wearing the Orange. The Syracuse Department of Athletics and the world of intercollegiate sports lost a dear friend when Doris passed away in May, 2001.

Doris established scholarships for women, while increasing the budgets to run the programs. She worked with the late Chancellor Melvin Eggers and others who supported women's athletics to begin Orange Plus. Throughout her career, Doris made it a point to attend every home athletic contest of every Syracuse team whenever possible. She often cheered on one team in the morning, another in the afternoon and a third in the evening.

Her impact on athletics reaches far beyond "The Hill," however. Prior to the NCAA taking women's athletics into its fold, Doris held offices on numerous committees in the AIAW (Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women) on the state, regional and national levels. After the merger Doris directed her energy into the NCAA Council, serving from 1989 through 1995.

Doris was also influential regionally where she was an integral part of the expansion of The BIG EAST Conference to include women's athletics, as well as chairing various committees in the league. The ECAC also benefitted from her knowledge and savvy, where she was a member of the ECAC Women's Steering Committee from 1983-87. For her many outstanding contributions, the ECAC honored Doris with the 1995 Katherine Ley Award, presented annually to a women's athletics administrator who serves as a role model for her colleagues, as well as a strong proponent of women's issues.

It is no secret that since her retirement her presence in the corridors of Manley Field House has been missed, but it is clear that her legacy will remain a part of the Orange forever.

TEAM AWARDS

THE ZUNIC AWARD

Presented by the Syracuse Football Club, the Zunic Award was created in 2001 to honor Mike and Judy Zunic, who died tragically on July 18, 1989 when a United Airlines plane crashed in Sioux City, Iowa. The pilot, anticipating landing difficulties, requested if some strong passengers would volunteer to give up their seats and sit at the exit doors to assist passengers in the event of an emergency. Mike and Judy gave up their seats in first class to sit at one of the exit doors. They both died in the crash and those in the Zunics' original seats survived.

Mike was a four-year starter at linebacker and earned a B.A. ('81) and master's ('82) degree from Syracuse University in speech communication.

 # - BIG EAST Conference (1991-2012), Atlantic Coast Conference (2013-present)
AP - Associated Press final national ranking (poll started in 1936)
^ - There were no BIG EAST Conference standings for 1991 or 1992. Highest ranked team in the USA Today Coaches Poll was considered league champion.
 - Wins vacated by NCAA*
+ - Record includes 11 wins from 2004-06 vacated by NCAA
@ - Record includes final two games of the 2023 season, which Dino Babers did not coach after a toaching change was made.

Game-by-game results for every Syracuse football season since 1889. Home games were played on campus at The Oval from 1895-1906 and at Archbold Stadium from 1907-1978. Home games in 1979 were played at various sites due to the construction of the Carrier Dome - now JMA Wireless Dome as of June, 2022 -, which has served as the team's home venue since 1980.

Syracuse was a member of the BIG EAST Conference from 1991-2012. There were no BIG EAST standings for 1991 and 1992. The highest ranked team in the USA Today Coaches Poll those seasons was declared conference champion. In 2013, Syracuse joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Associated Press rankings at the time the game was played are listed under the headings "SU" and "Opp." The AP poll began in 1936. From 1961-67, the AP ranked only the nation's top 10 teams. Available game attendance figures are also listed.

NCAA STATISTICAL CHAMPIONS

The NCAA began producing its annual statistical rankings in 1937. From 1937 through 1969, all individual rankings were by season totals. Beginning in 1970, most season individual rankings were by per game averages. Punting has always been by average.

Beginning in 1970, passers were ranked on completions per game. Starting in 1979, they were ranked on efficiency rating points. The all-purpose running rankings have been compiled since 1970. Field goal rankings began when the goal posts were widened in 1959.

Before 2002, bowl games were not included in NCAA final football statistics or records. Beginning with the 2002 season, all postseason games were included.

The NCAA retroactively determined the leaders in kickoff return and punt return average from 1937 to 1969 and includes them in the official record book.

This listing includes national leaders in additional statistical categories if known.

Return man Quinton Spotwood electrified Syracuse fans in 1997. He ran back an NCAA-best four punts for touchdowns.

In 2001, Dwight Freeney authored the best season of any Orange defender, leading the nation in both sacks and forced fumbles.

OVERTIME GAMES & SPECIAL DATES

ORANGE IN OVERTIME (11-9)

Syracuse has played 20 extra-session games since the NCAA instituted overtime in 1996. In 2002, Syracuse became the first team in NCAA history to have two games settled in triple overtime in the same season.

The Associated Press college football poll was introduced in 1936. The poll ranked the top 20 teams in the nation until 1961 when it was revamped to include just the top 10 teams. The top-20 format returned in 1968 and was expanded to include the top 25 in 1989.

The coaches poll was a service of the United Press (UP) and United Press International (UPI) from 1950 to 1990. In 1991, the coaches poll was taken over and released by USA Today.

Bowl Championship Series (BCS) rankings were released from 1998-2013. The College Football Playoff (CFP) rankings debuted in 2014.

UNIVERSITY LEADERSHIP

KENT SYVERUD

Chancellor & President

Chancellor Kent Syverud is the 12th Chancellor and President of Syracuse University. Now in his tenth year as Chancellor, he has worked with faculty, students, staff, trustees and alumni to steward the University during a period of transformational change and progress. A strategic plan spearheaded by Chancellor Syverud has reinforced and advanced Syracuse's aspirations, focused on redefining and enhancing every aspect of the student experience and empowering faculty and research excellence. During his tenure, the University has seen record applications and enrollment, attracting an increasingly diverse and academically accomplished undergraduate student body. With Chancellor Syverud's vision and steadfast support, Syracuse University has become the best private university for veterans, with enrollment of veterans and military-connected families more than tripling since 2014. The expansion of Syracuse University's D'Aniello Institute for Veterans and Military Families and the creation of the National Veterans Resource Center at the Daniel and Gayle D'Aniello Building, a state-of-the-art facility to house innovative military-centered programming, are core to Syracuse University being the best place for veterans.

Under his leadership, the University has hired more than 500 faculty since 2018 into targeted interdisciplinary research clusters designed to tackle some of the world's biggest challenges, strengthen research, and expand faculty diversity. Embracing innovation, including in online degrees and programs, Chancellor Syverud oversaw Syracuse's launch of one of the first online J.D. degree programs in the nation in 2019. Syracuse University has built financial strength and stability, with the endowment nearly doubling to more than $1.7 billion in 2022 and more than $1.3 billion raised in the ongoing Forever Orange Campaign. In the last ten years, Chancellor Syverud's commitment to academic excellence and a robust student experience has translated into physical changes that enhance the beauty and function of the University's historic campus. Transformational projects completed as of 2023 include opening the Barnes Center at the Arch, a holistic student health and wellness facility; renovating the Schine Student Center to better meet the needs of today's students; renovating the iconic Dome; and replacing a busy road with a pedestrian-friendly promenade through the heart of campus.

A noted legal scholar and teacher, Chancellor Syverud continues to teach a course each semester in the College of Law and the Martin J. Whitman School of Management. In addition to his leadership of Syracuse University, he has led the effort to update the governance of the Atlantic Coast Conference, serving as the Chair of the Board of Directors from 2019-2021 and as the chair of the 2020 search for the new Commissioner, James Phillips. He continues to serve on the ACC Executive Committee. He also currently serves on the Boards of the Crouse Health System, The SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry, and Scouting's Longhouse Council. Chancellor Syverud previously served as Commissioner for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, as co-Chair of the Regional Economic Development Council for Central New York, and as Chair of the Law School Admissions Council. In 2016, he completed six years of service as a trustee of the Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill Trust, the $20 billion fund created by BP and the White House to manage claims related to the Gulf Oil Spill.

Hailing from Irondequoit in Upstate New York, Chancellor Syverud came to Syracuse from Washington University in St. Louis, where he served as dean and the Ethan A.H. Shepley Distinguished University Professor at the School of Law. Prior to that, he served as dean at Vanderbilt University Law School and as associate dean for academic affairs and professor at University of Michigan Law School. An elected member of the American Law Institute, Syverud's scholarship has addressed negotiation, civil litigation, dispute resolution, and higher education.

Chancellor Syverud has a bachelor's degree from Georgetown University School of Foreign Service and a law degree and master's in economics from University of Michigan. He counts among his closest mentors retired U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, for whom he clerked shortly after she became the first woman named to the Supreme Court bench.

Chancellor Syverud is married to Dr. Ruth Chen, an environmental toxicologist and professor of practice at Syracuse University's College of Engineering and Computer Science. They are the parents of three grown sons, Steven, Brian, and David; and they have four grandchildren.

"Our department is defined by integrity and a passion for all things Syracuse – the University, the student-athletes, all students, the community and the region. We will be known as a group that collaborates amongst one another in all facets and with all branches of the University. We want our program to be a point of pride for the entire University – our students, our alumni, the community and Orange fans worldwide."

– JOHN WILDHACK – DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

John Wildhack with head football coach Fran Brown. Wildhack was an executive at ESPN before taking the reins of Syracuse Athletics in 2016.

JOHN WILDHACK

Director of Athletics

A uniquely qualified leader with a vast knowledge of and passion for Syracuse University Athletics, former ESPN executive John Wildhack was named Syracuse's 11th director of athletics in July 2016.

At Syracuse, Wildhack leads the daily operations of a 20-sport athletics department with more than 600 student-athletes. During his tenure, he has worked diligently to create an environment that fosters academic and athletic excellence, which prepares student-athletes to be leaders in our global society. Those efforts have resulted in tremendous success both on and off the field.

In Wildhack's eight years, 83 teams have represented Syracuse at national championship events, including 75 NCAA competitions. The 2022 men's soccer team won the National Championship, while the women's lacrosse team has advanced to the final four in three of the last four years and the men's rowing team has finished in the top five at the Intercollegiate Rowing Association National Championship in each three of the past four years as well. In addition, the football team has made three bowl appearances – including each of the past-two seasons - playing in the 2018 Camping World Bowl, 2022 Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl and 2023 RoofClaim.com Boca Raton Bowl.

The Orange have won 25 conference championships (eight team, 17 individual) in that span, and three national championships (one team, two individual). The Orange men's soccer team claimed their first national title in program history in 2022, while both individual national titles were courtesy of Justyn Knight, who won the NCAA Cross Country Championship and the NCAA Indoor Championship in the 5,000-meter run during the 2017-18 academic year.

Syracuse student-athletes are succeeding at a high rate in the classroom, as well. The Orange have had four-or-more programs earn perfect four-year scores in the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR) for six straight years. In 2021-22, four Orange teams achieved a perfect multi-year rate, while 12 recorded a perfect single-year score. As a group, the Orange student-athlete body achieved a 3.16 cumulative GPA in 2022-23, marking the seventh consecutive year student-athletes have recorded a GPA better than 3.0.

Since his arrival on campus, Wildhack has overseen multiple strategic initiatives to ensure the future success of the department. Among the most impactful have been launching the John A. Lally Athletics Complex project, facilitating a new 10-year naming rights agreement for the JMA Wireless Dome, securing $118 million investment from the University for enhancements to the building, and the formation of an in-house production unit, increasing visibility of Syracuse student-athletes on ESPN and the ACC Network.

Named after alumnus and three-time football letterwinner John Lally '82, the state-of-the-art academic and athletics village is home to 20 Syracuse University athletics teams. The hub of activity and the center of student-athlete life for Syracuse University athletics, the John A. Lally Athletics Complex supports the academic and athletic experience of the Orange 600 student-athletes. It is currently undergoing a multi-million, multi-year transformation that has one singular goal—elevating the student-athlete experience. The new entranceway to the building was opened during a ribbon-cutting ceremony in February 2023, while the new football operations center and "One Team" Olympic Sports Center began construction in May 2023.

Authorized by the Board of Trustees in May 2018, the $118 million in funds enabled the University to move forward with improvements to the Dome. The upgrades included a new fixed roof, vertically-hung scoreboard, and state-of-the-art sound and lighting systems, which were completed in September 2020.

The iconic building got a new name in May 2022, as the University and JMA Wireless announced a 10-year partnership for the naming rights of the University on-campus stadium, just the second name since the venue opened its doors in 1980. The two Central New York organizations also announced that Syracuse-based JMA will support the Dome's digital infrastructure transformation by establishing the most advanced connectivity offerings for fans and other users while at the Dome. Ahead of the 2024 football season, upgraded chairback seating and new premium offerings will be installed throughout the venue.

During his distinguished career at ESPN, which spanned more than 30 years, Wildhack held a number of leadership roles and was responsible for several firsts at the network. Those firsts included producing ESPN's first live regular-season college football game in September 1984 and its first live NFL game in August 1987.

Before joining the Orange, Wildhack most recently served as the network's executive vice president for programming and production. He was responsible for oversight of all ESPN and ABC game, event and studio production work for domestic and international television and radio, as well as programming acquisitions, rights-holder relationship management and scheduling. He managed all league and conference relationships, negotiated all live sports television rights and was responsible for 50,000 hours of on-air content annually.

From 2007 to 2012, Wildhack was ESPN's executive vice president for programming and acquisitions. In that role, he oversaw all rights negotiations and managed relationships with rights holders for all ESPN entities. These included ESPN, ESPN2, ESPN Classic, ESPNews, ESPN Deportes, ESPNU, ESPN International, ESPN Radio, ESPN.com, ESPN3, ESPN Mobile Properties, print and more. In 2009, he began leading strategic program planning for all ESPN television networks, ESPN on ABC and ESPN's digital platforms.

Wildhack's managerial role at the company began in 1990 when he was named director of event productions. In 1991, he was promoted to vice president for remote production, a position he held through 1993 when he became senior vice president for remote production. In September 1994, he moved to the programming department as senior vice president for programming, and in 2005 he became senior vice president for programming acquisitions & strategy. Wildhack was directly involved in the renewal and expansion of many ESPN and ESPN2 programming agreements for the NFL, MLB, NBA, Bowl Championship Series, NCAA, tennis' four Grand Slam events and a variety of major college conferences. His efforts were integral to the increase of live and original programming on ESPN and ESPN2. Under his direction, the evolution of ESPN2's programming lineup included an extensive commitment to auto racing and college football and basketball, leading to ESPN2 becoming the fastest growing network of the 1990s.

Wildhack first joined ESPN as a production assistant in 1980. He served in a number of production positions prior to his move to the management track, including production assistant, associate producer, senior associate producer, producer, coordinating producer and director of event productions. Among the sports he worked on were college football, NCAA basketball, boxing, golf and auto racing. He served as coordinating producer for ESPN's "Sunday Night Football" and NFL Draft telecasts in 1988 and 1989 and produced NFL games for the network – the first NFL games on cable – from 1987-89.

A native of Buffalo, New York and a 1980 alumnus of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications with a degree in telecommunications, Wildhack joined ESPN in its first year of operation immediately following his graduation. An active alumnus of the University, he sits on the Advisory Board for the David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics and was an honoree at the "Newhouse at 40" Gala.

He and his wife, Amy, have two sons, Tommy '26 and James '27. John is also the father of a son, M.J.

ATHLETICS LEADERSHIP

HERMAN FRAZIER

Senior Deputy Director of Athletics

Veteran athletics administrator Herman Frazier was promoted to senior deputy director of athletics in May 2016. Frazier joined the Syracuse staff as deputy athletics director/chief of staff in 2011.

A native of Philadelphia, Frazier boasts more than 40 years of experience in athletics administration, including eight years as an athletics director. He has overseen the participation of the Syracuse football team in four bowl games, including the 2018 Camping World Bowl and 2022 Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl. In 2012, Frazier received the NACDA Pioneer Award for his position as Chef de Mission for the 2004 Olympic Games.

Frazier currently serves as an administrator for the football and men's basketball programs, as well as the sport supervisor for men's rowing. Frazier has his hand in numerous areas of the athletic department, including overseeing football scheduling. He has been on the NCAA Track and Field committee, worked with the United States Olympic Committee and continues to be involved with USA Track and Field, The Bowerman Award, and The Fiesta Bowl.

Before coming to Syracuse, Frazier was the senior associate athletics director for sports administration at Temple. Prior to joining the Owls, Frazier served six years as the director of athletics at Hawaii. He was also previously the director of athletics at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB).

At Temple, Frazier supervised the football, basketball, baseball, soccer and crew programs, and was the administrative liaison for budget, compliance, financial aid, coaching searches, scheduling, academic support, facility issues, event management, media relations and marketing. He was also responsible for administrative supervision of the equipment operation, facilities, event management, sports medicine and strength and conditioning. Frazier handled the administrative logistics for Temple's appearance in the 2009 Eagle Bank Bowl and the men's basketball team's 2010 and 2011 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Frazier was the athletics director at Hawaii from 2002 through 2008, where he guided the Warriors to unparalleled success. Under Frazier's direction, the football team earned a spot in the 2008 Sugar Bowl following an unbeaten regular season and garnered four consecutive bowl bids, while the volleyball program advanced to back-to-back Final Fours. During his tenure, Frazier created premium seat donations, established a five-year financial plan, negotiated head coaching contracts for football and women's basketball, and was instrumental in bringing an Olympic trials event to Honolulu.

Frazier's first athletics director post was at UAB in 2000. As the second director of athletics in the history of the school, Frazier started a $30 million facility improvement plan and was responsible for instituting new management concepts and a strategic master plan for athletics.

Frazier began his career in administration immediately upon graduation from Arizona State, joining the Sun Devils staff as a graduate assistant for the track & field program in 1977. In 1979, he was appointed assistant director of events and facilities. During his 23-year tenure at ASU, Frazier moved up the ranks to the position of senior associate athletics director for business operations. He was the administrator for 10 Olympic sports that won numerous national championships, and the football program, which earned two Rose Bowl berths. He also directed business affairs, operations and stadium management.

An eight-time All-American in track at ASU, Frazier was the leadoff runner for the 1976 Olympic gold medal-winning 4x400 relay team. From 1980 through 2004, Frazier served on various United States Olympic committees, including two stints as the U.S. Olympic Committee vice president from 1996 to 2004. In 2004, he was named Chef de Mission for the U.S. delegation at the Athens Olympics. Frazier presided over the most successful U.S. Olympic team in history, as the Americans won 103 medals.

In 2017, Frazier was inducted into the Pennsylvania High School Track and Field Hall of Fame. In 2020, Frazier was inducted into the City of Philadelphia Sports Hall of Fame.

KIRSTEN ELLEBY

ATHLETICS LEADERSHIP

TOMMY POWELL

Assistant Provost/ Student-Athlete Academic Development

Tommy Powell came to Syracuse University as assistant provost for student-athlete academic development in August 2013. Powell has a strong history in guiding student-athletes to success in the classroom and in the community.

Under Powell's leadership, Syracuse has had at least four teams receive perfect four-year scores in the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR) for four straight years. Twelve teams posted a perfect single-year APR score in 2021-22. Additionally, 11 student-athletes have combined for 16 College Sports Communicators Academic All-America awards since Powell arrived on campus.

Powell joined the Orange staff from Iowa State, where he had served as the associate athletics director for academic services since 2008. While with the Cyclones, Powell implemented a standard comprehensive academic support program for all student-athletes. The program helped student-athletes attain a higher cumulative GPA than the general student population from 2011 to 2013. Iowa State's 79 percent federal graduation rate in 2010 was the highest in the Big 12 and seventh-best among FBS schools. In 2009, Iowa State's CHAMPS/Life Skills program earned the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association National Program of Excellence Award.

Prior to his time at Iowa State, Powell was the associate director of the LSU Academic Center for Student-Athletes from 2001 to 2008. In addition to serving as the academic coordinator for several teams, including football and basketball, Powell monitored the progress toward degree and eligibility requirements for at-risk student-athletes.

Powell began his academic support career at LSU, where he worked as an academic counselor for the College of Arts and Sciences for two years. He was the director of counseling services at River Parishes Community College from 1998 to 2000 before serving as director of the TRIO Dissemination Partnership Program at Southeastern Louisiana University in 2000 and 2001. The program trained and supervised college faculty on the implementation of supplemental instruction.

Powell earned his bachelor's degree in psychology in 1992 and his master's degree in counseling in 1995 from Southeastern Louisiana. He holds a second master's degree in entrepreneurship and emerging markets from Syracuse's Martin J. Whitman School of Management. Powell and his wife, Deborah, have two sons, Tyler and Ethan.

SUE EDSON

Executive Senior Associate AD/ Communications

As the chief communications officer for Syracuse Athletics, Sue Edson is responsible for all public relations and media relations functions for the department. Edson serves as a member of the department's senior leadership team and external relations team, which includes communications, marketing, tickets, fundraising, corporate sales, digital media and athletics production. She supervises the Athletic Communications Department and works closely with University Marketing and Communications on athletics-related matters. In addition, she is the primary communications contact for the athletics administration, ice hockey and women's rowing, and assists in various roles with football, including credentialing.

The athletics communications staff is responsible for the dissemination of information for Syracuse's 20 intercollegiate sports teams to appropriate organizations. The unit manages the department's website (Cuse.com) and social media channels, acts as a liaison with external media, and educates administrators, coaches and student-athletes with regard to public speaking and interviewing skills.

A 33-year veteran of Syracuse Athletics, Edson was promoted to her current role in the spring of 2015. Previously, she served as associate director of athletics for communications (2006-14), assistant director of athletics for communications (2004-06) and director of athletic communications (1997-2004). From 1997 through 2014 she was the primary communications contact for the football program. Edson was inducted into the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Hall of Fame in 2012.

Prior to her appointment as director of athletic communications in 1997, Edson was an assistant director for seven years, including four years as the department's publications coordinator. As publications coordinator, she was responsible for the production of 16 media guides. In addition, she handled the day-to-day public relations duties for women's basketball.

Edson began her career at Syracuse in 1990 as an assistant sports information director where she was responsible for handling the public relations efforts for the Orange's 17 Olympic sports.

In 2006, Edson was honored with the Eastern College Athletic Conference-Sports Information Directors Association's (ECAC-SIDA) Irving T. Marsh Award for excellence in the field of sports information. The following year, she was recognized with the Greater Syracuse "40 Under 40" award for her contributions to the workplace and local community.

Edson has been the media coordinator for the NCAA Men's Basketball East Regional in Syracuse five times and served as the media coordinator for the first and second rounds of the NCAA Women's Basketball Championship at the Carrier Dome in 2016 and 2019. She served on the ECAC-SIDA Board of Directors for eight years and was the organization's president in 2002-03.

Previously an adjunct professor in Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Edson taught a class in sports public relations from 1994 through 2013.

Edson graduated from Syracuse in 1990 with a dual degree in broadcast journalism and policy studies.

Edson resides in Jamesville. She has two children. Her son, Thomas, is a graduate of Ithaca College '21 and Syracuse's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications M'22. Her daughter, Tracey, attended Jamesville-DeWitt High School and is a senior at Syracuse University. Edson's late husband, Rob, was an athletics administrator at Syracuse and the director of athletics at Onondaga Community College before his passing in 2013.

Edson is a member of the Greater Syracuse Sports Hall of Fame Board of Directors, the Women's Fund of Central New York Leadership Council, and the Syracuse University Women in Leadership Steering Committee. Previously, she was co-president of the Jamesville-DeWitt Youth Athletic Association Board of Directors and served as co-coordinator of the basketball program.

JON MITCHELL

Senior Associate AD/Sports Medicine

Jon Mitchell joined the Syracuse University Athletics Department as a senior associate athletics director in November 2022. He came to Syracuse after more than seven years in sports medicine and administration at Appalachian State and has more than 26 years of experience in the profession. Mitchell is responsible for sports medicine, strength and conditioning, nutrition and mental health in the newly-created position in the Syracuse Athletics Department.

At Appalachian State, Mitchell served as the senior associate athletics director for student-athlete health and well-being for three years. He started at App State in 2014 as the director of athletic training services. He worked for four seasons as the athletic trainer for the men's basketball program.

Prior to joining the Mountaineers, Mitchell spent 15 years at nearby Gardner-Webb University, where he directed all athletic training operations and was the athletic trainer for the men's basketball team and the Runnin' Bulldogs men's cross country and track and field teams.

He also served as an Instructor and as a Preceptor in the athletic training major in the School of Preventive and Rehabilitative Health Sciences at GWU. Mitchell started his career as head athletic trainer at Newberry College from 1998 and served there for two years before moving to Gardner-Webb.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Mars Hill College and his master's from Gardner-Webb University. Mitchell completed his Doctor of Education with a focus in global sports leadership at East Tennessee State in 2019. A native of New Jersey, Mitchell ran cross country at Mars Hill. He and his wife, Stephanie, have two sons, Payton and Camden.

JAMIE MULLIN

Senior Associate AD/Administration

Jamie Mullin was promoted to senior associate athletics director for administration in July 2013 after serving in multiple roles during his time at Syracuse.

A 20-year veteran of Syracuse Athletics, Mullin was hired as the Orange's director of compliance in July 2003. He was promoted to associate director of athletics for team services in 2006, and worked as associate director of athletics for administration prior to his current appointment.

Mullin serves as the department's liaison to Syracuse's Office of University Counsel, Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities, Admissions, and Financial Aid. In addition, he is responsible for athletics policy development and strategic planning.

Mullin is the sport administrator for men's lacrosse, women's ice hockey, field hockey and the spirit squads and has previously chaired the NCAA field hockey committee. Two of the programs he supervises - men's lacrosse and field hockey - have won NCAA Championships in his tenure at Syracuse.

He also provides managerial support to the creative services, marketing, digital strategy and engagement, equipment staff and video support services departments.

Beginning in November of 2022, Mullin began chairing weekly external meetings where various external-facing departments collaborate on department affairs. Some achievements in that time have been the successful 20th anniversary celebration NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, the coordination of the 2022 Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl and the announcement of the next phase of construction on the John A. Lally Athletics Complex.

Before coming to Syracuse, Mullin worked at Fresno State for two years. He was named Fresno State's director of compliance in June 2001 and was promoted to assistant athletics director for compliance a year later. Mullin also previously worked in the compliance office at Central Michigan as an assistant from August 1999 through May 2001.

Mullin received his bachelor's degree in history from Northern Michigan. He holds a master's degree in sport administration from Central Michigan.

Jamie and his wife, Sara, reside in Jamesville with their sons, Tate and Quinn.

ATHLETICS LEADERSHIP

JORDIE KINDERVATER

Interim Executive Director of 'Cuse Athletics Fund

Jordie Kindervater joined Syracuse University Athletics and the 'Cuse Athletics Fund as the Associate Athletic Director for Development in January of 2022. In his role at Syracuse, Kindervater oversees and provides strategic direction for the major gifts team as they pursue increased philanthropic support for SU Athletics' top priorities through the Legends Society and major gift fundraising initiatives. Kindervater is responsible for supporting New York regions including Syracuse, Central New York, New York City and Rochester, as well as national regions including Philadelphia, Southern Connecticut, Central Florida, Southern Florida, California and New Jersey.

Prior to arriving at Syracuse, Kindervater spent three years with the Ole Miss Athletics Foundation where he was most recently the Assistant Athletic Director for Development. As a front-line fundraiser at Ole Miss, Kindervater played a pivotal role in the completion of the $200 million "Forward Together" Campaign and the successful launch of the $350 million "Champions. Now." Campaign. During fiscal year 2021, the major gifts team secured $24.7 million in philanthropic cash gifts and commitments, the second highest total in the ten-year history of the Vaught Society.

In advance of his time at Ole Miss, Kindervater spent five years with the Blue & White Fund, the fundraising arm for University at Buffalo Athletics. During his time with Buffalo, the BWF experienced three record breaking fundraising years in terms of cash collections and set new standards with former student-athlete giving and overall membership. In 2017-2018, Kindervater oversaw the Shareholders Society, which led the way in delivering a new Fieldhouse, Sports Medicine Center, Football Operations Center and Premium Club Seating to campus.

Before transitioning into development, Kindervater served as the Assistant Men's Tennis Coach at the University at Buffalo and the University of Central Florida. While at UB, Kindervater was named the ITA Northeast Region Assistant Coach of the Year in 2011 and his teams took home Mid-American Conference regular season titles in 2010 and 2012. During his time at UCF, Kindervater contributed to landing the program's first top 20 nationally ranked recruiting class in 2012.

A native of St. John's, Newfoundland, Canada, Kindervater earned his B.S. from the University of Alabama, where he was a four-year letter winner and three-year captain for the men's tennis team. He also received his M.S.A. from Canisius College in 2012.

Jordie and his wife Sarah reside in Fayetteville with their two daughters, Claire and Kate.

MOREY MOSSOVITZ

Associate AD/Facilities & Event Operations

Associate Athletics Director Morey Mossovitz was elevated to his current position in July 2018 after serving as assistant athletics director of facilities and event operations since August 2011. Mossovitz began his career in administration at Syracuse in the specialized role of facilities coordinator with academic support responsibilities.

Mossovitz supervises the daily operations, facility upkeep and renovation projects for the John A. Lally Athletics Complex. In addition to the Lally Athletic Complex, he is the supervisor for the Carmelo K. Anthony Basketball Center, Iocolano-Petty Football Complex, Ensley Athletic Center, SU Soccer Stadium, J.S. Coyne Stadium, Wohl Field, Hookway Fields, the Skytop Softball Stadium, Women's Building Gym A and select Dome events. He also serves as the sport supervisor for the Syracuse women's tennis program.

Mossovitz plays a key role in managing the continued construction and renovations to the John A. Lally Athletics Complex. Launched in November 2021 with the announcement of a $150 million fundraising campaign—part of the University's Forever Orange Campaign—the Lally Athletics Complex focuses solely on elevating the student-athlete experience and ensuring that Syracuse Athletics is distinctive and competitive among its ACC peers. The new entranceway to the complex opened in February, 2023, and construction on the new football operations center and "One Team" Olympic Sports Center began in May, 2023.

Mossovitz provides administrative support to University Vice President and Chief Facilities Officer Pete Sala and serves as the department's liaison with University Parking Services, the Department of Public Safety, EMS, Visit Syracuse, the Office of Government and Community Relations, and Recreation Services.

Mossovitz oversees the facility and event office, who staff serves as game manager for all Olympic sporting events, and tournament managers for select Atlantic Coast Conference and NCAA events, Mossovitz works with every program on campus. He was the tournament manager for the 2015 NCAA Men's Basketball East Regional. In 2016, he was appointed the administrator in charge of overseeing Syracuse's camps and clinics.

Mossovitz earned his bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in educational studies from Syracuse University in 2008. Two years later, he received his master's degree in student affairs counseling from the University. In May 2019, Mossovitz completed Drexel University's educational leadership and management doctoral program.

During his undergraduate and postgraduate career, Mossovitz served as team manager, graduate assistant and assistant director of camps for the Orange men's lacrosse program.

A native of Baltimore, Maryland, Mossovitz is an alumnus of St. Paul's School for Boys. He currently lives in Fayetteville with his wife, Elizabeth, their daughter, Lucy, their son, Graham and their dog, Penny.

MARK WHEELER

Associate AD/Compliance

Mark Wheeler is entering his eighth year at Syracuse in the 2023-24 academic year. He was named Syracuse's director of compliance in October 2015 after previously serving in the same position at Boise State for two years. In April 2017, Wheeler was promoted to Associate Director of Athletics for Compliance.

Wheeler reports directly to the Office of University Counsel and works closely with Director of Athletics John Wildhack as the sport supervisor for the women's lacrosse program, which reached Championship Weekend in 2023, and women's soccer program. He is responsible for managing all aspects of the University's compliance program, including educating coaches, student-athletes, boosters, athletic department staff and other University officials about NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference, College Hockey America and Intercollegiate Rowing Association rules and regulations. He oversees all compliance processes and procedures dealing with the University's monitoring of recruiting, eligibility, financial aid and certification.

Wheeler has also overseen Syracuse's student-athlete name, image and likeness program since its inception.

While at Boise State, Wheeler led the Broncos' compliance department. He created and delivered a comprehensive education curriculum for coaches, non-coaching staff, student-athletes, boosters and other constituents. Additionally, he provided NCAA and Mountain West Conference rules interpretations for coaches, staff and student-athletes.

Before joining the Broncos, Wheeler was the assistant director of compliance at Ohio State for one year, managing all areas of compliance for the men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's cross country, and men's and women's track & field programs.

Wheeler's previous experience includes serving as an athletic compliance coordinator at Pepperdine University in Malibu, California. While there, Wheeler was integral to rebuilding compliance processes and procedures in the aftermath of a major NCAA infractions case. Wheeler has also completed internships at Brigham Young University and Paradigm Sports Management during his career.

In 2012, Wheeler passed the bar exam in California. He received his Juris Doctorate from Pepperdine the same year. He earned his undergraduate degree in management from BYU in 2009.

Wheeler and his wife, Kaela, have three sons – Bennett, Anders and Theo – and one daughter, Fiona.

Willis serves as the sport supervisor for the Orange's cross country and track and field programs and oversees Syracuse's student-athlete engagement division.

He also oversees the athletic department's diversity, equity and inclusion committee, serves as a liason with the student-led DISAB group

Willis has two decades of experience in higher education and most recently served as Syracuse's associate director of the Office of Student-Athlete Academic Development, where he monitored and tracked the initial and continuing eligibility of football and softball student-athletes. Willis assisted in all aspects of academic support, including arranging tutors, academic monitoring and reporting, advising and orientations. He was also responsible for keeping coaches informed of student-athletes' academic progress, the APR and eligibility concerns. Additionally, Willis worked with other Student-Athlete Academic Development staff members to implement life-skills programming.

A former collegiate student-athlete himself, Willis was a member of the Western Michigan basketball team for three seasons. He lettered for the Broncos in 1995 and 1996. Willis graduated from WMU with a bachelor's degree in computer science in 1999.

The following year, Willis stayed in Kalamazoo to begin his career in higher education. He started out as a residence hall director then rose up the ranks, ultimately serving as Western Michigan's student orientation coordinator and assistant director of admissions.

In 2007, Willis was hired as the director of first-year programs and university testing at Indiana State, a position he held until being named vice president of enrollment management and student affairs at Martin University (Ind.) in 2011.

Willis transitioned to college athletics in 2012, serving as an academic counselor and compliance assistant at Colgate for a year prior to joining the Orange in 2013.

In addition to his undergraduate degree, Willis holds a master's degree in educational leadership from Western Michigan. He earned his doctorate in educational leadership from Indiana State in 2013.

Willis and his wife, Sheila, live in DeWitt and have four children.

MIKE LANG

Assistant AD/Creative Services

Mike Lang was promoted to Assistant Athletic Director of Creative Services in the fall of 2021. In his role, Lang oversees the department's branding, photography, videography and graphic design efforts.

Lang joined the athletics department full time as the marketing graphic artist in February 2016. In that role, he was responsible for creating marketing collateral including billboards, ticket designs, social media graphics and PDF presentations. After that, he moved over to be a video producer in November of 2017.

Lang joined the staff after completing internships with the Syracuse Chiefs, Syracuse Athletics, and the Charlotte Hornets.

Lang earned a Master's degree in television, radio and film from the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communication at Syracuse University in 2016. He graduated from SUNY Oswego in 2014 with a BA in marketing.
